Rehabilitation Program for Shirley Court Reports Progress But Major Hurdles Exist

Shirley Court is a short dead-end street off the east side of Witherspoon. On one corner is Aljon's, the submarine base, and on the other a small apartment building.

The Court itself consists of two facing rows of yellow stucco houses separated by a roadbed whose ruts and pot-holes go back many years. The houses, eight on one side and eight on the other, are linked by porches supported by white-painted pillars. At the end of the court is a fence separating Shirley Court from Princeton Cemetery.

An ideal, indeed, almost a perfect spot for renovation. And beyond its potential for renewal and charm, a place where a really significant step in the re-inforcement of Princeton as a community might have been taken.

But the Witherspoon-Jackson Development Corporation announced this week that their Shirley Court package has had to be abandoned because one of the property owners, Benjamin Kahn, when presented with a contract for sale according to previously negotiated terms late in December, refused to execute the contract.

Paul Harvey, who owns the other eight units plus the Aljon sub. shop, had reached an agreement with Witherspoon-Jackson.

Members of the non-profit corporation declined to reveal the amount in the verbal agreement they originally had with Mr. Kahn, but they said they had received word, "circuitously," that he would consider a 25 percent increase.

"This would not be financially feasible," said Walton Johnson, the corporation's president. He did say that the total Shirley Court project, including purchase, renovation and administrative costs was "in the neighborhood of $400,000."

The Borough's tax department has Mr. Harvey's property listed at $26,400 — net taxable value — and Mr. Kahn's at $25,400. However, the figures reflect the fact that the Borough hasn't reassessed since the mid-1960s; the properties are clearly worth much more in today's market. Mr. Harvey's property includes Aljon's building. Also, his houses have rear yards, which Mr. Kahn's do not.

According to figures prepared by Stuart Robson, Borough assessor, Mr. Harvey's property is worth $84,000 in today's market and Mr. Kahn's, $80,000.

The Witherspoon-Jackson Development Corporation was formed in 1975 under the umbrella of the Princeton Joint Commission on Civil Rights. The group's primary purpose is to preserve the Witherspoon Street area of Princeton and to make it possible for families in that area to remain in

"I'm very optimistic about the future of the schools," Mrs. Frisch said. "The prospect of a fine new superintendent who will work with the community in a positive way is very exciting."

Doubts Expressed. Mr. Johnson, who said that personally he felt that only one of the two finalists was qualified, defined the selection procedure as "unfair" to Mrs. Francis because the 35 members of the citizens committee appointed to interview finalists never had a chance to interview her or to express themselves about her to the board.

"Our three consultants (one of whom is a black woman) spent a whole day here, discussing with community and staff in great detail the qualifications the community wanted in a superintendent," Dr. Meyerhofer said, "with that as a base, the consultants screened the applicants."

Of the 146 formal applications, only six were from women, he said, and "half a dozen" were probably minority candidates. Consultants and board made a special effort to seek out qualified women and minority candidates, the statement said, and board member Joan Dorig read all applications to

Shirley Court

Princeton. Over the years, young people, retired people and families have been forced out of the area by the high cost of housing.

"We are working on projects designed to enable families of moderate means to buy, renovate and maintain their homes," a WJDC statement declares.

"The Shirley Court project took us 18 months," Mr. Johnson recalls. "We went through each unit, identified the renovations that were required, working with the tenants, had appraisals made. An architect worked with us on a design. We made elaborate financial projections -- building costs, fees, and the like.

"We ended up with a lending consortium consisting of the First National Bank, Princeton Bank and Trust, Nassau Savings and Loan and Princeton Savings and Loan. They helped us devise an economically sound strategy for financing the project and we got a commitment from them to finance a major portion of acquisition and construction costs. The group had an advisory board, and under the leadership of Mrs. Barbara Smoyer of that board was ready to launch a fund-raising drive to raise the rest of the money from private sources -- they even had stationery printed -- when Mr. Kahn changed his mind and the project had to be abandoned."

SHIRLEY COURT...MAYBE? Architect E. Harvey Myers shows what a renovated Shirley Court could have looked like--and maybe will, some day. Tenants now living in these townhouses would be able to buy them. The houses would remain basically the same in appearance (an identical row faces those shown here). The street would be paved, perhaps with bricks or flags, and blocked to cars by decorative posts facing Witherspoon. Residents and visitors would use the Borough's new Maclean Street parking lot directly across Witherspoon. There would still be the 16 houses, eight to a side, that are in existence now.

Appraisals indicate that the properties, if they were fully renovated and modernized, could rent for $200 a month. In working out its Shirley Court package--and presumably in future work on future projects--the WJDC has had the volunteer professional services of architects, lawyers, accountants and real estate agents. The Bicentennial Commission designated the Shirley Court project as Princeton's official "Horizons" project, and the historical Society, pointing to the 200-year old history of the Witherspoon area has given its support.

Why Rents Go Up. "In a sense," the WJDC statement says, "our experience in this case illustrates the larger problem facing the Witherspoon neighborhood. Absentee landlords are forcing prices up, selling only to make exorbitant profits and maintaining the properties at sub-standard levels. This is the problem WJDC is tackling."

"Actually," Mr. Johnson adds, "we could afford to pay more than a private developer because of the nature of our financing. And we are not disheartened: we're going ahead with another major project." He and other corporation members won't say where this project, and others in the early stages of planning, might be.

In the Shirley Court planning, Borough and Township helped by including $1,500 in the Civil Rights Commission budget for legal and architects' fees, stationery and the like. However, the WJDC is now a self-contained, non-profit corporation under the IRS, with its own constitution, by-laws and board of directors.

The Borough agreed to pave and re-construct the street. Since it is a privately-owned street, it is not maintained or cleaned by the municipality. In fact, it does not receive municipal garbage collection and the manager of Aljon's allows Shirley Court residents to put garbage in his refuse cans.

Fines Levied. Houses on the Court have four rooms: living-room, kitchen, two upstairs bedrooms and a bath, full basement. Rentals are around $150 a month. One or two houses, in which Mr. Kahn remodeled the bathrooms, rent at around $165 and $175.

Mr. Kahn was recently the object of a suit filed by the state Department of Community Affairs for unpaid fines levied in alleged housing code violations. Mr. Kahn's total fines were $12,910, of which $1,210 was for 1 Shirley Court. Mr. Harvey was sued for $6,210 in unpaid fines. In a settlement with the state, Mr. Kahn's total fine was reduced to $4,950 and Mr. Harvey's to $710

Other Activities. In addition to projects, the WJDC advises and helps buyers and sellers of homes, co-ordinating their activities with mortgage lending institutions and promoting normal market processes for the benefit of families in the Witherspoon area.

"We may help prospective buyers consider their financial abilities--the income-tax advantage of having a mortgage, for example. Also, our team of real estate agents, bankers and builders can give a good assessment of the value of a house."

According to Susan Johnson, another member of the corporation's operating board, the group works closely with lending institutions, helping them to be sensitive to buyers.

"The lending consortium is important," Walton Johnson points out, "because there is a need to overcome the discrimination or unfriendliness that low-income people often sense in their dealings with financial institutions."

Behind the Name. The corporation's name has more than geographic significance. Witherspoon is a primary artery. Jackson was once a street, but was eliminated and its houses torn down so that the present eastern segment of Paul Robeson Place and the north part of the Playhouse parking lot could be constructed.

"Jackson" is, therefore, a symbol to the corporation of the destruction of the neighborhood and the increasingly small housing stock there.

By-laws require that a majority of the members of the operating board live in the area. Members are Max Blumenfeld (39 Randall Road); Consuelo Campbell (105) Leigh; Eric Craig (173 Witherspoon); the Rev. Leon Light, real estate, and E. Gipson (10 Maclean); Martha Harvey Myers, architect. The Hartmann (178 Moore); Joan attorney is Thomas C. E. Hill (24 Red Oak Row); R. Jamieson Jr. Princeton's two Susan Johnson (227 Valley mayors are ex officio mem-Road); Walton Johnson (243 bers. Ewing).

Also Joseph P. Moore (246 Witherspoon); Henry Pannell (80 Clay); Logan Pemberton (9 Shirley Court); Thomas Robinson (22 Valley Road); Kenneth Samuel (94 Birch); Louise Shaw (3395-D South Broad Street, Trenton) Frank Wells (26 Birch).

Members of the advisory board are Fred M. Blaicher, Theodore L. Cross, Elizabeth Dilworth, Cecelia Drewry, Edith Francis, Golda Gottlieb, Edler G. Hawkins, John F. Hoff III, Charles A. Hurford.

WHAT ABOUT HOUSING?
Group Appeals Decision. Unhappy with Planning Board approval of Princeton University's plans for a biochemical building on William Street, a newly-formed group called the Housing Coalition of Princeton has appealed the board's action to Borough Council. The appeal is under the state's new land-use ordinance.

Construction of the science lab on William means that the University will have to move or raze six houses, at least four of them regarded as of architectural significance.

"Approval of the site development application by the Planning Board, we regret to say, represents continuing insensitivity to the housing needs of the community at large in Princeton," the Coalition declares, in a letter to Borough Administrator Robert F. Mooney informing the Borough of the appeal.

Loss of the six houses and construction of the lab would "completely change the nature of the neighborhood," the Coalition charges. The site plan review board and the planning board should have recognized this as "an extremely detrimental effect on the environment," the letter continues.

Cawley's Viewpoint. Commenting on the appeal, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley observed that the area is in an Education zone, and was "clearly marked" for education purposes in the Borough's Master Plan of the mid-1960s. The lab would be built behind and adjoining the present Frick laboratory building on the corner of Washington and William.

The Coalition's specific appeal relates to Planning Board approval of a setback variance and site plans for the new building. The site plan review board, the letter says, has the responsibility of evaluating criteria and standards "which would adversely affect the environment."

"All of the houses could be saved," the letter declares, "by redesigning the building and site, or re-locating the building on another, more appropriate location on the University's vast land holdings."

Since the University does own so much land, the argument continues, the application doesn't involve "hardship." "The hardship," says the Coalition, "involves occupants of the houses." Applicants must prove hardship in order to obtain variances of this kind. Two Planning Board members Sight Rhyme: Rain—Again!

Princeton residents watched warily Tuesday as the day-long rain caused streams to rise sharply.

Mercer and Quaker Roads were closed and Harry's Brook adjacent to Meadowbrook Drive was "coming up fast." The latter and portions of the Great Road were in danger of being closed, while Shadybrook, Poe, Roper and River Road all had water on them but were still open to traffic.

A tractor-trailer went off the road at 10:21 in the morning on Route 206 near Nini Plymouth and jackknifed, but there was no damage or injuries. Traffic was not blocked, police said.

Borough police reported water backing up on some streets by mid-afternoon but not enough to warrant any closings.

voted against granting the variance on the grounds that the University had not proved hardship.

Members of the Housing Coalition are Len Brown, Alma R. Field, Eleanor Gorman, Martha Hartmann, Joan Hill, Robert Hosford — who signed the letter — Joseph P. Moore, Kevin Pobst, Janice Schneier, Karin Slaby, Richard Sobel and Joan M. Thomas.

TOWNSHIP VOTES BUDGET

Makes Name Changes. "A varied evening," was the way Mayor Josie Hall characterized the Township Committee meeting last Wednesday which took action on matters ranging from adoption of the budget, to spraying for gypsy moth, to name changes for a street and wildlife refuge.

In the public hearing on the planned use of revenue sharing funds and on the budget there were few questions and comments. "Has the Village made a contribution?" one member of the audience wanted to know, referring to PCV Village which is supposed to report its rental income by May 1 and make a percentage contribution in lieu of taxes to the budget. Stuart Robson, tax assessor, was asked to look into the matter.

Captain Elmer Greey rose to compliment the Township on the excellent job of snow clearing on roads and streets and to deplore the condition of rural roads, especially the Great Road from Ridgeview to Cherry Valley.

"It's a question of culverts and drainage," he asserted. "If we don't pay fundamental attention to drainage there is no point putting a cent more into the roads. It is time we spent our money properly on road maintenance."

Another asked why the anticipated income from Princeton University was less in the new budget. Administrator Joseph Nini explained that the figure of $10,363 as opposed to $13,322 the previous year, represented the loss of Princeton Inn from the tax rolls and the gradual reduction by 10 percent in revenue each year over a 10-year period, as agreed upon with the University.

A question on $37,000 to the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority was answered as being one month's appropriation from the time the sewer is expected to "come on line" in mid-November. Mayor Hall commented that although Committee could have dropped the tax rate another point or two, future sewer charges might be "extraordinary," and it was felt necessary to keep a cushion in surplus until 1978 or 1979 when other users, namely West Windsor and South Brunswick, will be connected.

To everyone's surprise a resolution authorizing gypsy moth spraying was passed without a murmur. In contrast to last year when the chemical Sevin, which kills bees, was used and brought forth strong protests, the substance to be sprayed from the air in early May by the state will be Cimilin, a hormonal compound that does not hurt bees and which has found favor with the Environmental Commissions.

Sanctuary. Street. Renamed. Thomas Southerland came before Committee with a letter requesting that the name of the Princeton Wildlife Refuge off Alexander Street be changed to the Charles H. Rogers Wildlife Refuge in honor of the noted ornithologist who died on February 26.

Mr. Rogers' son has offered to make the sign incorporating both the name change and a drawing of a bird by Mr. Rogers which was the logo on all his correspondence to ornithologists around the world. A new checklist of the birds to be found in the refuge will also be printed.

Galbreath Drive will become Lambert Drive on May 1 in honor of the late Gerard B. Lambert, and new house numbers will be issued to residents. The name change was proposed by The Boychoir School, formerly the Columbus Boychoir School, which is housed in Mr. Lambert's former residence, a 52-room mansion called Albemarle. The Galbreath family, living in Columbus, Ohio, has no objections; nor does the majority of the 22 homeowners along the street.

Too many unresolved questions on design and cost estimates postponed a decision on the proposed amphitheatre in the Community Park northside complex. Committee would like to know what a $42,950 amphitheatre buys over a cheaper one, what kind of surface should be used and whether ramps and hand rails are or ought to be included.

Resolutions were passed authorizing a $2,480 study of police communicationa by Robert C. Conroy and appropriating funds from the capital improvement fund.

In other business, Committee granted a liquor license to the Institute for Advanced Study, contingent upon the granting of a waiver from the Alcoholic Beverage Commission because the club has not been in existence for the required three years.

Committee accepted a gift of land lying partially in the Stony Brook flood plain from L.S. Greene and accepted with regret the resignation of Ralph H. Mather from the Library Board. Mr. Mather is retiring to Florida.

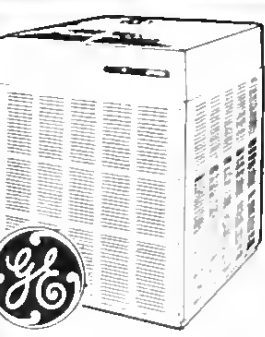

ATTEMPT FAILS To Oust Landau's. A state appeals court ruled last week that Penwag Property Co., landlord for Landau's 114 Nassau Street, has no legal right to break the store's lease.

Although the Appellate Division of Superior Court upheld the ruling by Judge Samuel D. Lenox in rejecting the attempt by Penwag to oust David Landau from the building, it reversed a further ruling by Judge Lenox that Penway pay Mr. Landau $20,000 in punitive damages and $19,000 for legal costs.

Henry Landau this week declined to comment on the case, saying it was in the hands of his attorney.

First a downpour
Then the sun
Is this your Idea of fun?

Tuesday's downpour produced better than an inch of rain and that raised the total for the month to some 20% above normal, with more than a week left.

Sure enough, the sun was scheduled to follow, but not enough to bring much of the mild weather that all of us hope will accompany the arrival of spring. It will, the Man says, be colder than normal Wednesday and not any better than normal right through the weekend.

Dry, however.

Speaking of spring, the resident forecaster, whose forecasts are not always 100% right, missed last week on the arrival of spring. In this space, it was said to be Monday, whereas most everyone knows it began Sunday at 12:43 p.m., just a little while before it began to snow.

"This is not the end of it, though," he added. "We still got time; we'll be around this town for a long time."

The Landau's attorney, Henry Weston of Trenton, said that no decision will be made to appeal until Mr. Landau, who is out of town, returns. He said that the Landau's lease has a little more than five years to run.

The appeals panel had found that no penalty should be handed out simply because Penway had brought suit—even though the corporation had no grounds for such a suit to oust Mr. Landau.

To the Penway claim that Mr. Landau had broken his lease because he refused to sign a paper accepting a mortgage on the property, the appeals court replied that such a paper was virtually a "sham mortgage" intended to break the Landau lease.

$900 PUMP STOLEN
From Sewer Site. There was another theft last week at the sewer plant construction site on River Road.

An 80-pound submersible pump, valued at $900, used to drain water from a backwash storage tank, was discovered missing on Monday. The pump was placed in the tank on Friday and believed to have been stolen the next day. It was the property of a Newton, Pa. construction firm.

A $300 aluminum canoe was reported stolen Saturday by Aurin M. Chase, 31 Adams Drive. The victim told police the canoe had been placed in bushes near Carnegie Lake some 150 feet from his home.

A 1976 Mercury Monarch Ghia valued at $5000 was stolen between Sunday evening and Monday morning from the driveway of its owner, Robert Harvey, 37

Balcort Drive. The keys had been left under the arm rest. It was recovered Tuesday in Hopewell, police said.

Fender skirts worth $110 were stolen last week from a 1964 Thunderbird parked on Vandeventer Avenue in the driveway of its owner.

Not for Sale. A jacket with a hood trimmed in white fur was stolen Monday while its owner, a Township resident, was working in Trinity Church at a rummage sale. It was valued at $200.

There were two wallet thefts: a West Windsor resident lost $25 and credit cards when his wallet was taken Friday from a locker in Dillon Gym — it was later found on campus and returned to its owner, minus the money — and a New York City resident reported the theft of his wallet containing $20 and a $10 traveler's check.

The victim told police that he had placed his jacket on the ground in Marquand Park and was visiting another part of the park when he saw two young men pick up the wallet and run off.

TRENTON MAN CHARGED
In House Entry. Willie Thomas, 25, of Trenton, has been charged with breaking and entering and larceny, following his arrest Thursday afternoon behind a house on Maxwell Drive.

Police found in his possession a calculator and cash that had allegedly been stolen from the home of Herbert Wolff, 384 Stockton Street. Two television sets were found in the front lawn of the Wolff home.

Thomas was later released in his own recognizance by Judge Philip Carchman.

Sgt. Anthony Pinelli and Ptl. Jerry Offredo, responding to a silent burglar alarm, noticed a man standing on Stockton Street as they sped to the Wolff home. Ptl. Offredo checked the home, discovered a window broken and proceeded to chase the suspect through a wooded area adjacent to the Wolff home. He was joined by Det. Pinelli and the two managed to apprehend the suspect.

Taken in addition to the television sets and calculator, police said, were $8 and a silver dollar.

"Flasher" Arrested. William Hartshorn, 19, of Mercerville, was arrested at Borough headquarters Friday where police charged him with exposing himself to a woman on Moore Street shortly before midnight on March 13. He is scheduled to appear in court April 27.

Arrested on Friday by Det. Ronald Holliday was Robin Everett, 21, of Leigh Avenue. He is being charged with taking part in the larceny March 1 of four bicycles from the Princeton Theological Seminary. Chains securing the bikes had been cut, police said. Everett's court hearing is April 27.

THOMAS CAWLEY OUT
Resigns from Sewer Authority. Thomas Cawley, disturbed by Borough Council's unanimous vote to rescind its approval of the single-plant sewer system, has resigned as Borough representative from the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority. Mr. Cawley said he would remain until Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley names a successor.

Unexpectedly, last Wednesday, Council voted 5-0 to "rescind without prejudice," in the words of Council member Gus Escher, its December endorsement of the one-plant system. The item was not on the agenda, and Mayor Cawley had told reporters only the day before that it would not be brought before Council.

Mr. Cawley, an engineer who formerly served as Borough engineer, was a strong supporter of the one-plant system. He had apparently not been notified that a vote would come before Council.

Change of Mind. The matter was raised at Wednesday's meeting by Council member Nelson van den Blink who, with colleague Leona Medvin, had abstained from the December vote. Both explained at that time that they did not have enough information to make the decision.

The wording of the motion declares that approval of Plan A — the single-plant plan — no longer accurately expresses the sentiment of Council.

Mrs. Medvin and Mr. Escher emphasized that the action simply moved Council "back to square one" and established the body in a neutral position regarding any plan at all.

"We now have additional data relating to other plans," Mr. Escher said, "and we don't want to commit ourselves to any single plan, especially since we are so concerned with protecting ourselves against any future action Hopewell Township might take."

Mr. Escher was referring to the "contingent liability" clause in service agreements among the seven Authority communities. If Hopewell decides it wants to expand, presumably all other communities would have to share in the expense of expansion. Borough attorney Gordon Griffin is exploring, at Council's request, the legal implications of the clause.

From the audience, Charles Cornforth protested that it wasn't fair to take a vote without telling the Authority, but Mrs. van den Blink replied, that in her view, it wasn't unfair "to move to neutral."

Solution Offered. At his Tuesday press conference, Mayor Cawley said he feared Council's action might be given more weight by the Authority and the state than Council intended. The body was also registering its concern about contingent liability, he said, not only rescinding its earlier action.

The mayor said he thought a possible solution to the single-plant, three-plant argument might be to make the two upstream plants bigger, and ask the state to share some of that additional cost. The additional capacity could then take care of Hopewell if that township decided to zone for more growth, Mayor Cawley said.

Referring to Mr. Cawley — who is no relation — the mayor said: "He really will be missed. He did a good job both in advancing the interests of the Authority as a whole, and in representing the parochial interests of our own town."

He has no one in mind to succeed him, the mayor said.

TWO DRIVERS INJURED
in River Road Crash. Two drivers were injured last week when their cars collided on River Road near Herrontown Road.

Kathleen A. Catanese, 31, 22 Montgomery Avenue, Rocky Hill, received a concussion and was treated at Princeton Medical Center. Ms.

Catanese, traveling south on River Road, told P.D. John Clausen that she could not recall any details of the accident.

The second driver, Deanne G. Tuckman, 35, of Piscataway, treated at the Medical Center for head lacerations, told police that she could only remember the Catanese car striking the right front of hers. Both cars had to be towed away.

There were no charges by P.D. Hammond following the morning accident, although he noted in his report that apparently the Tuckman car crossed over the center lane.

Forced Into Pole. Susan G. Peters, 19, 44 Dodds Lane, told police that while attempting to turn left off Nassaau onto Snowden Lane Thursday evening, an unidentified car entered her lane and forced her into a telephone pole.

She received lacerations of the face. Her passenger, Amanda Lewis, 19, 106 Carson Road, sustained contusions and abrasions of the head.

MOPED DRIVER CHARGED
With Drunk Driving. In what Chief Michael Carnevale said he believed was the first such charge by police, Concepcion Rodriguez, 29, Red Oak Row, has been charged with operating a Moped while intoxicated.

He was observed by Sgt. Thomas Procaccino and P.U. Bernard Lenhardt on Witherspoon Street early Sunday evening. Taken to headquarters where he was given a Breathalyzer test, Mr. Rodriguez was later released, pending his appearance in court April 18.

Borough police were alerted by the State Police, who, in turn, had been notified by a CB operator that someone was operating a Moped in a hazardous manner on Harrison Street.

STUDENT IS ROBBED

On University Campus. A Princeton University student, walking on campus between Henry Hall and University Place shortly before 2 Monday morning, was approached by two men who announced that they planned to rob him.

No weapons were revealed, police said, but the student turned over his wallet containing $28. The two then got into a car and drove away. University proctors notified police of the robbery.

First Aid Unit Admits Woman Member

The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has its first female member.

Seventeen-year old Pat Bodine, a senior at Stuart Country Day School, was accepted into the squad this week and awarded a jacket and key. She will serve as a cadet until August, when she turns 18.

Her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Bodine, 20 Moore Street, who for the past four years has been police secretary at Borough Hall, said that her daughter was very excited about her acceptance. "It's something she's always wanted."

Mrs. Bodine reported that Pat's grandfather, Sgt. Carl Anderson, was one of the first instructors in the First Aid Squad. She herself was a member of the Manahawkin First Aid Squad for five years, "so I guess she comes by it naturally. Eventually, I think she wants to be a policeman."

At the moment, Pat is taking courses in childbirth, water safety, extrication, defensive and evasive driving and to become an emergency medical technician.

Unlike previous years, when an attempt by a Princeton woman to join was met with resistance by the male members, Mrs. Bodine said that there was "no problem" this time. The men were very congenial, she added.

"She's really excited about it," Mrs. Bodine concluded. "She said that the men were very nice, very friendly toward her. She doesn't feel they'll make it difficult."

Anthony Nicholas, 706 Kingston Road; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ostroski, 42 Oxford Place, Belle Mead; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stuart, 130 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, all on March 18.

RUG AUCTION SUNDAY
To Benefit Education Fund.

Money for education is the chief goal of the Princeton Branch of American Association of University Women's Benefit Oriental Rug Auction to be held Sunday, at 1:30 in the Stuart Country Day School. In addition to offering the public an opportunity to learn about and purchase Oriental rugs at special prices, AAUW hopes to make a substantial contribution to its Education Foundation which has made possible financial grants both in the Princeton area and nationally. Established in 1888, AAUW's national Education Foundation is the oldest and largest non-university program of graduate fellowships for women in the United States. Last year it awarded some $550,000 to women studying law, medicine, dentistry, architecture, veterinary medicine, urban and environmental planning, and the humanities. Dr. Frances Hutner of 28 Hibben Road, a member of AAUW, received a grant which enabled her to begin work investigating sex bias in four leading labor and economics textbooks currently in use in American universities. Dr. Hutner, who is assistant professor of Economics at Stevens Institute of Technology, will present her findings to the Atlantic Economic Conference in Washington, D.C., next fall.

In the Princeton University Department of Physics, Dr.

Mary Potasek is conducting experiments on the transportation of electrons in biological systems, also with the help of AAUW's Education Foundation. For the year 1975-76, the Princeton Branch of AAUW received a public service projects grant which helped finance the highly successful Edu-Action

University Names Rudenstine as New Provost; He Will Serve as Deputy to President Bowen

Dr. Neil L. Rudenstine, professor of English and for the last four and a half years Dean of the College at Princeton University, has been designated to succeed Dr. Albert Rees as provost at Princeton, effective July 1. Dr. Rees' desire to return to full-time teaching and research was announced last month.

Dr. Rudenstine, 42, a summa cum laude graduate and Rhodes Scholar in the class of 1956 at Princeton, returned to the University in 1968 as Dean of Students and associate professor of English. He became Dean of the College on July 1, 1972, and was promoted to professor in 1973.

The selection of Dr. Rudenstine was approved at a regular meeting of the executive committee of the University's board of trustees and was announced by President William G. Bowen, who said, "This is, in my view, an extraordinarily good appointment for Princeton, and for that matter, for all of higher education. In making this appointment, I was aided greatly by the suggestions and comments contributed by many people, and it is a tribute to the respect in which Dean Rudenstine is held that he was mentioned so often, and so favorably, by people representing every element of the University.

"Having had the privilege of working closely with him for nine years now, on a wide variety of problems, some of them very difficult, Dr. Bowen continued, "I can testify on the basis of first-hand experience to his exceptional qualities: a clear sense of the purposes Princeton seeks to serve; an unusual capacity to listen and to be sensitive to the concerns of others; an ability to analyze in a rigorous way and to speak and write persuasively; extraordinarily good judgement; the courage to make unpopular decisions when that is necessary; and a deep concern for individuals as well as for the board educational objectives that are ours."

As provost, Dr. Rudenstine will be the second ranking officer at Princeton and general deputy to the president, with particular responsibility for the overall academic development of the University and for coordination among its various academic activities, departments, and programs. No provost chairs a broadly representative committee on priorities which prepares budget recommendations for the president and oversees long-range financial planning, serves as the University's affirmative action officer, and chairs a review committee which oversees the Plasma Physics Laboratory and its efforts to achieve energy from nuclear fusion.

The provost also oversees the Library, the Computer Center, the Registrar's Office, and the Office of Continuing Education, and works closely with McCarter Theatre. He meets regularly with the faculty's advisory committee on appointments and advancements which makes recommendations to the President concerning matters of faculty appointment, promotion, and salaries.

During his four years as Dean of Students, Dr. Rudenstine had administrative responsibility for undergraduate social life, extracurricular activities, and for matters relating to the conduct and discipline of undergraduates. As Dean of the College, he has had oversight of the undergraduate academic program, the curriculum, admission, financial aid, and various services and offices designed to promote the academic development of undergraduates. He has been responsible for the administration and enforcement of rules and standards concerning undergraduate academic standing, and has chaired faculty committees on the course of study, examinations and standing, and undergraduate admission and financial aid.

Search on for Two Deans

With the appointment of Neil L. Rudenstine as provost, President Bowen has announced that a search will begin for a successor to Dr. Rudenstine as Dean of the College. In addition the office of Dean of Student Affairs will also be vacant as of July 1 when Adele Simmons assumes the presidency of Hampshire College.

President Bowen has asked Dean Rudenstine to coordinate the search for his successor because of his knowledge of the position and because of the responsibilities he will be assuming as provost.

Because of the way the two deanships are related, President Bowen thinks it may be desirable to fill the position of Dean of the College before undertaking a search for a Dean of Student affairs. It is possible that an interim arrangement in the Dean of Student Affairs office will be needed to assure ample time for a careful search, he added.

NEW DIRECTOR NAMED

At Historical Society. The appointment of Alice O. Brown of 52 Harley Avenue as executive director of the Historical Society of Princeton has been announced by the trustees. Mrs. Brown will assume her duties on May 1.

A graduate of Vassar College where she majored in American History and Literature, Mrs. Brown also holds a Master of Library Science degree from Rutgers University. Her numerous educational and community activities include terms as first vice-president of the Alumnae Association of Vassar College; president of the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey; director, Friends of the Princeton University Art Museum, and director, Princeton Council of Community Services.

She has been a teacher at and a trustee of the Potomac School in McLean, Va., a trustee of the Princeton Day School, and a librarian at the Princeton High School. She is married to Newell Brown, director of Career Services at Princeton University, and is the mother of five. Mrs. Brown will succeed Mrs. Loy Ann Carrington, who has served as executive director of the Historical Society since 1975 and now plans to resume her colleges.

REGISTRATION SET

For YWCA Spring Programs. The YWCA offers an opportunity to every woman and girl to enhance her life, encourage her good health, strengthen her skills and develop new ones. The YWCA, a member agency of the Princeton Area United Community Fund, offers programs for the young adult, the young mother and her infant or toddler, teen and grade school girls, as well as creative and varied programs for the mature woman with emphasis on her special needs.

Available this spring will be a broad choice of new courses and activities in adult education and enrichment, youth programs, physical education and recreation, clubs, camps, language, musical instruments, art skills, games and special events. Brochures are available in the YWCA office. For program information, call the YWCA, 924-4825 ext. 13.

All registrations will be taken on Saturday, March 28, from 9 until 3 and on Monday, March 28 from 9 until 8:30 p.m. Classes begin on Monday, April 1.

WEIDEL ENDORSED

By Republica Chairman. Christine St. John, Republican Chairman for Princeton Borough, has given her support for Karl Weidel, candidate for reelection to his Assembly seat from the 14th District, which includes both Princeton Borough and Township.

"The people of the 14th District will be best served by re-electing such an able and experienced legislator" said Mrs. St. John. "Representation at the state level is too important to be decided on the narrow basis of municipal and county considerations alone. The concerns of the entire district must be our first consideration. Karl has ably served the district and the State for 11 years and is eminently qualified to continue in this important position."

BUDGET PASSED

In Borough. Pointing to a reduction in the local tax rate from 97 cents to 81 cents, Borough Council passed its $3,270,960 1977 budget last Wednesday with a minimum of audience comment or protest. It was the Borough's first "caps" budget in which, by state law, a municipality is held to five percent more than was spent in the previous year.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley explained that because of the cap limitation, the Borough is bonding some $100,000. Replying to criticism of this policy from Charles Cornforth, in the audience, council member Gus Escher said the caps law makes it almost the only way to go. He added that the law has always allowed municipalities to finance projects under a bonding mechanism, rather than from current expenses, as Mr. Cornforth would prefer.

"We haven't invented this as a devious route," Mr. Escher observed.

The reduced tax rate was achieved in part by taking $365,000 from capital surplus (leaving $150,000) and member Richard Woodbridge said he wasn't very happy with this and felt it gave a "false impression" of a downward trend in the local rate. $4.99 included $1.91 for the county and an estimated $2.27 for schools. A house assessed at $30,000 will pay $1,495 in taxes.

In other business, Council established two-hour parking on Hodge, Library and Maclean and agreed to give the biohazards study group $400 for speakers' expenses. A bond ordinance for the reconstruction of Spruce Street was introduced and public hearing scheduled for April 12.

An ad hoc committee to study downtown parking has been appointed, with Council members Nelson van den Blink and Richard Woodbridge, Administrator Robert F. Mooney, assistant engineer Martin Miller, attorney Gordon Griffin and Planning Board member William H. Walker representing the Borough, and businessmen John Hoff III, Ralph Hulit Jr., Jack Yeoman, Leonard LaPlaca and Albert Toto Jr. the merchants, and Michael Rockland the citizens.

As a result of a story on Princeton parking meters in a Trenton newspaper, the state has ordered the Borough to remove the six meters in front of Nassau Presbyterian Church.

"We ordered you to remove them nine years ago," the state's representative told Mr. Mooney. The meters are regarded as a part of the Palmer Square intersection.

AGENDA: PLANNING

For Region, Water Use. Two meetings related to regional planning will be held next Wednesday, March 30. One, a joint Borough-Township meeting with the Planning Board and representatives of the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission, will discuss the DVRPS's relationship to and power over local planning. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall and is open to the public.

The second meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in Room One of the Woodrow Wilson School, is sponsored by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association and the League of Women Voters of New Jersey, and will explore the requirements of the safe drinking water act which goes into effect July 1.

DRIVER FINED $320

In Traffic Court. It was an expensive day in Borough traffic court Monday for Alouisus Goosen of 233 Mount Lucas Road.

Acting Judge Robert Casey fined him $215 for driving while on a revoked list, $65 for disregarding an officer's signal, $20 for operating an unsafe vehicle and $20 for wearing no goggles or face shield on a motorcycle. He was found not guilty on two other charges of no license in possession and improper left turn.

Trani & Sons, Inc., 219 Nassau Street, was fined $10 each on two charges of no name on a commercial vehicle and $10 for dumping refuse at a public parking lot, a violation of a Borough ordinance. William Humes, 28 Forester Drive, and James Knill, 73 Library Place, paid $15 each for failing to comply with the snow removal ordinance, while Alban T. Russell, 334 Prospect Avenue, paid $30 for two violations of that law.

Fined for speeding were: Joan Patterson, 3 Colonial Avenue, Princeton Junction, $16; Richard A. Cohen, Princeton Pike, Lawrenceville, $15; Mary L. Fitzgerald, 280 Jefferson Road, $15; Charles Alley, 9 Tower Drive, Lawrenceville, $20; Dannie A. Kennedy, 120 Leigh Avenue, $15; Bernadetta Grant, 419 Village Road E., Princeton Junction, $15; Douglas Halversen, 307 Emmons Drive, $15; Alice D. Sharett, 212 Herrontown Circle, $20; Rosemary Flanagan, 50 Littlebrook Road, $15; Carol Golden, 50 Maple Street, $15; Erik Mines, 62 Wheatheaf Lane, $15; Elaine S. Banks, 221 Sycamore Lane, $26; and Dierde Dendaas, 17 Dempsey Avenue, $15.

Others: Alexander Rechester, 65G Graduate College, $30, careless driving; Marion B. Cullen, 16 Westerly Road, $35, stop sign; Louise Cheadle, 338 Hamilton Avenue, $25, disobeying a traffic officer; Russell Shangle Sr., 446 Nassau Street, $25, careless driving; Thomas Griggs, 216 Witherspoon Street, $40, unlicensed driver, and $35, careless driving, and Susan Chamberlain, 359 Nassau Street, who had two offenses merged into one of disregarding a stop sign, $55.

In Township court Thursday, Richard D. Freiermuth, Catskill Court, Belle Mead, and May V. Calvo, Belle Mead, were each fined $20 for disregarding a traffic control device on Quaker Road. Barbara W. Wright, Davison Road, Plainsboro, and Robin J. Ellis, Burnt Hill Road, Skillman, paid $25 and $30 for stop-sign infractions.

Speeding cost Clifford J. Pfluger, 20-04 Fox Run Drive, Plainsboro, $28. For trespassing, John Celentano, 254 Jefferson Road, was fined $25.

GO FLY A.....
But Workshop Comes First.
"I wandered lonely as a cloud....." No, no, no, no. It's a KITE, not a cloud. And it won't be lonely, at least not on Saturday, May 7, because that's the annual Arts Council community party day.
The party is devoted to kites this year, and will be held on Princeton Battlefield where there's plenty of room.

Before that day, however, the Arts Council and the Aerospace and Mechanical Science Department at Princeton University will hold a slide-lecture and a kite workshop so that nobody has to go out on the battlefield unprepared.

The slide show will be combined with a reception for the lecturer, Tal Streeter, starting at 8 p.m. Friday, April 1. It will be held at 185 Nassau in the old Nassau Street School building, and everyone is invited.

Tal Streeter is a well-known kite enthusiast who has pursued his research all the way to Japan.

The next morning -- Saturday, April 2 at 10 a.m. -- there will be a shirtsleeves workshop in the 185 Nassau building. People who would like to attend are asked to sign up by calling 924-5955 or 924-2232.

You can learn to make a kite in only 15 minutes. It's the Arts Council's promise.

"SHREWD" PAIR CAUGHT

In Shopping Center. Two 13-year old Trenton youths, described by Township juvenile officer Anthony Pinelli as "very shrewd," were apprehended Saturday by Ptl. Robert Nielsen after spending a week of crime in the Princeton Shopping Center.

"We know they were there for an entire week every day," said Sgt. Pinelli. Both were later released, pending action by juvenile authorities. A third, unknown juvenile is also involved, police said.

At the time of their arrest, the two youths had 32 one

IT'S THIS DARNED STRING... Unsnarling complicated municipal problems is easier than flying—or trying to fly—a kite, discovers Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley. He's practicing for the Arts Council's Kite Day on Saturday, May 7. He's also beginning to think seriously about signing up for the Council's Kite Workshop on Saturday morning, April 2. Council treasurer Anne O'Brien—that's Arts Council, not Borough Council—is about to make that tactful suggestion.

dollar bills in their possession. According to Sgt. Pinelli, the two stole a March of Dimes Cannister containing approximately $5-$8 from the East Gate Store and another cannister containing an estimated $10-$15 from the Center Luncheonette. Police believe they cashed the coins for dollars.

From Titles Unlimited, the two allegedly stole $67.50 from a cash box and $35 from the purse of a clerk. All the thefts took place on Friday.

Two days earlier, the two had set off a smoke bomb in Center Stationers to camouflage their attempt to break into a watch case. On other occasions, they would "accidentally" spill things to distract the clerk's attention.

"They tried three times before they got the clerk alone at Titles Unlimited," commented Sgt. Pinelli. The clerk, Dorothy J. Rozycki told police that her brown leather wallet on a shelf behind a counter had been taken between 5 and 9 p.m. while she was working.

Sgt. Pinelli added that the two are also believed responsible for the theft of a bag of calculators from Bamberger's. They were apprehended on Saturday when a clerk in Titles Unlimited saw them again and called police.

The consultants presented a slate of seven finalists, to which the board added the name of Mrs. Francis. One of the outside candidates subsequently withdrew. Each of the seven was interviewed in "great length and depth" by the board, the president said, for about four hours in most cases. All except Mrs. Francis were white males, he revealed. He denied that any board member preferred male candidates.

He said it would have taken too much time for all seven to be interviewed by the citizens committee. It would have been unfair to the candidates, he said, if their names had been made public that early in the selection process.

When the search narrowed to two, he said, the board did research beyond the candidates' references "to make sure we found the best."

Dr. Meyerhofer said that a state executive order prohibits the board from discussing reasons why a candidate was eliminated. He pointed out, however, that if Mrs. Francis wants to, she can ask the board for public discussion of the reasons why she was not among the finalists. To date, she has not made that request.

At the Black Caucus meeting on Friday, Mr. Brown said that during a luncheon meeting, Dr. Meyerhofer "gave me the impression that Edith would be among the finalists." The board president also told him, Mr. Brown said, that the board had never committed itself to three finalists but to "two or three."

"The community certainly felt that she had performed successfully as acting superintendent," Mr. Brown commented. "Her performance in that job was a criterion to be considered, but the town had no chance to express its views."

WANT TO RUN?

Republicans Invite You. Anybody who wants to run for Borough Council on the Republican ticket is invited to meet with the Princeton Borough Republican Committee next Thursday, March 31, at 8 p.m. Those who are interested are asked to call 921-2074 or 924-4296 after 5:30 for more details.

There are two seats to be filled on Council this year. Nelson van den Blink and Leona Medvin each are filling terms that will expire at the end of the year.

In extending the invitation to confer with Republicans, Christine St. John, chairman of the Borough Republican Committee, said, "We hope to hear from those wishing to run for these offices or who have recommendations for prospective candidates."

YOUTH PROGRAM SET

At YMCA. The new spring youth programs will begin at the YMCA on April 11. Registration will be accepted by phone and mail before Monday.

Programs are available at different grade levels and include softball, gym hockey and swimming, sports and games for fun, gymnastics, archery, judo, Pioneers Club, co-ed karate, and track and field followed by swimming. For further information call the YMCA at 924-4825.

IT'S NEW To Us

SPRING FASHIONS
From Robert Varga. This past Monday Robert Varga introduced his 1977 Spring Into Summer collection with more than 130 men's and women's fashions. Once again the emphasis is on neutral colors with a few bold touches; and the basics include tailored blazers, pleated pants, narrow skirts with slits for walking, and a decided peasant look for evening.

Anne Klein's clothes probably best represent the spectrum. Silk is the fabric this season in either black or pounce, and while you can wear all of one shade such as a classic silk pounce coat dress ($140) that is marvellous alone or over pants and a shirt, the more interesting looks combine classic patterns.

For instance, Anne Klein's silk tweed blazer was shown with a checked vest, delicately patterned blouse and slim creme skirt — all in black and creme with a floating black raincape thrown over everything, $70 to $198.

The neutrals continued, but midway through the show Anne Klein returned with a group of bright silks, coordinating the most vibrant colors. Orange pants were worn with a teal tube top and a purple shirt, while a magenta single-breasted amock-styled jacket topped a teal t-shirt and purple trousers. Everything is softly tailored and priced from $20 to $150.

Strong Suits. The suit is most important this year and the selection includes a rich navy ultrasuede one with a cardigan jacket, a handsome three-piece creme silk suit with a back vent and waist detail on the jacket, and a tailored dark taupe silk one worn with a striped blouse, $150 to $370.

While most suits this year have narrow skirts with fly fronts and walking slits, our favorite one was shown with pants. This was a blue and creme silk pin stripe. The effect is quite pale as the blue is light and the stripes narrow, and it is perfectly set off by a matching bowed blouse — only the stripe is interestingly more widely spaced, $240 for the suit and $90 for the blouse.

Ties were also in evidence, frequently shown with the more tailored separates such as Ralph Lauren's forest green double-breasted blazer and white trousers or Arthur Richards' collegiate collection.

FASHION 1977: At Robert Varga's showing, the audience was particularly responsive to Arthur Richard's creme and navy gabardine separates.

This designer has mixed a gently gathered mid-calf creme skirt with a navy blazer worn over a white cabled sweater vest, blue oxford shirt and yellow tie. There is also a yellow sweater vest, navy or creme pants and a bulky navy cardigan with a yellow and white striped band on one sleeve, $52 to $198. A men's group is available, too.

The Evening Look. The look for evening is soft and a nice contrast to the daytime tailoring. Least formal are the full mid-calf wrapped crepe de chine skirts by Lynn Bowling in either a pearl grey or mauve and grey stripe. These were shown with kimono jackets or stoles worn over gently scooped t-shirts in combinations of grey and mauve, $42 to $190.

We also liked Scott Barrie's pearl grey matte jersey long dress and cardigan jacket piped in gold and Robert Varga's Couture bright red off-the-shoulder long peasant dress.

Then, looking toward summer, the creme has turned to pure white but the tailoring detail is still important. For instance, you can choose a white silk suit with a single-breasted blazer and narrow skirt with a front and back slit, or a white oxford cloth pantsuit shown with a lovely sheer white tucked skirt.

However, when the evening hours arrive, once again the full peasant look was shown by all the designers. Prettiest of all, however, was Oscar de la Renta's white long peasant dress with a tiered skirt and full sleeves bordered in a multi-colored stripe, $230.

We also liked Varga Couture's mid-calf multi-colored striped tiered skirt that is worn with a bright yellow corselet and matching striped stole. Another pretty peasant dress is Mollie Parnis' long twin print which tops a red challis print skirt with a lavender corselet and stole to match the skirt, $210.

Daytime still features Diane Von Furstenberg and this year her short-sleeved wrap-front dress is in black with a small white tulip print. This same print, but in red, has been used for a most attractive sleeveless dress and matching short-sleeved jacket, $80 and $118 respectively.

The Sporting Life. Sports are a vital part of the summer scene and Robert Varga has included tennis clothes and bathing suits in his collection. You can choose classic white shorts piped in red with a matching t-shirt by Calvin Klein or be unique in Ralph Lauren's short creme jumpsuit with cuffed pants, $20 to $56.

The bathing suits were bright solids in one- or two-piece styles, but all were worn with a multi-colored sheer Hawaiian floral sarong — most appealing. The bathing suits were priced from $20 to $36.

Robert Varga is located at 2564 Route One at Hopatcong Drive, Lawrenceville.

NEW GALLERY OPEN

At 195 Nassau. Just a month ago a new addition joined Princeton's art galleries when La Galeria, specializing in the works of contemporary Latin American artists, opened at 195 Nassau Street.

All the works represented are by living artists, well known in the art world, and the themes depicted include the abstract as well as the realistic. Owner, Yoryi (pronounced Georgi) Pietri, is herself a Latin American and knowledgeable about these artists.

She is especially proud to carry the works of Rufino Tamayo, a Mexican artist who has developed his own technique called Mixografia. This method uses both wax and copper plates which enables him to integrate fully the textures and colors he wants. For instance, one of his works relies totally on tans and browns to portray a man's textured torso.

NEW GALLERY: This oil painting of a Puerto Rican cock fight by Epifanio Irizarry is part of the collection in Princeton's new Latin American gallery, La Galeria.

color to create his abstract watercolors and acrylics. He also intends his works to be viewed just as they are, without a frame, and thus he has painted the sides of the stretched canvas to give a box effect.

Another abstract artist is Miguel Ocampo of Argentina. He works in acrylics too, creating an image with thousands of tiny dots. We were particularly fascinated with his painting worked in tones of grey and white to create various planes. We also liked another work which shows a dramatic ultra violet curve across the center of an almost black background.

From Puerto Rico, La Galeria has the works of Epifanio Irizarry, an artist who loves his country's folklore. His paintings show street dancers as well as a man holding a fighting cock. In Puerto Rico this is a government approved sport and a personal interest of Irizarry. He also loves the sea and his works include some impressionistic watercolors of fishermen and sailboats.

A more realistic and less romantic Puerto Rican artist is Jaime del Valle, whose colorful oil depicts the rooftops from a poorer section of the island.

The prices range from $120 for the serigraphs of Botello and Moya to about $600 for Tamayo's mixografias. These serigraphs, by the way, have appealing themes in the form of children or nudes, and they are an excellent price for an original art work.

Located upstairs at 195 Nassau Street, La Galeria is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10:30 until 5:30.

Engagements and Weddings

ENGAGEMENTS

Sutphin-Bedford. Robin Sutphin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Sutphin of Skillman, to Bruce Bedford III of Carter Road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bedford Jr., of Lakeville, Mass., formerly of Princeton.

Miss Sutphin is employed by Educational Testing Service, Mr. Bedford by Pegasus International Corp. They will be married on August 27.

Hutchinson-Medica. Ellen Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hutchinson of 115 Fieldstone Drive, to William M. Modica, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Modica of Hamilton Township. An October wedding is planned.

The bride elect was graduated from Trenton Central High School and Trenton State College. She is an elementary school teacher with Trinity Cathedral Day School in Trenton. Her fiancé, a graduate of St. Anthony High School and Villanova University, is employed by the Ceilco Company in Ewing Township.

Kowbinski-McCormick. Patricia J. Kowbinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kowbinski of Lawrence Township, to Peter L. McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. McCormick Jr. of Glen Ellyn, Ill. They plan a November 5 wedding in St. Michael's Catholic Church, Trenton.

Miss Kowbinski, who was graduated from Lawrence High School in 1972 and Trenton State College in 1976 with a degree in elementary education, is a teacher at St. Gregory the Great School and is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education.

Mr. McCormick graduated from Cranford High School and Cook College with a degree in ornamental horticulture. A member of Zeta Psi, a social fraternity, and Alpha Zeta, national agricultural honor society, he works for Wright's Roses in Cranbury.

WEDDINGS

Fowler-DiMeglio. Barbara J. DiMeglio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiMeglio of Edinburg Road, Dutch Neck, to Thomas J. Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Fowler of Beach Haven; March 19 in the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church, the Rev. James S. Weaver, former pastor, and Fr. Thaddeus Sapio of Beach Haven officiating.

The couple are both graduates of Glassboro State College, the bride with a B.A.

in communications, the groom with a B.A. in business administration. Mrs. Fowler also graduated from Princeton High School. Her husband, a graduate of Southern Regional High School in Beach Haven, is sales engineer for Gould, Inc. Control and Systems Division in Clifton. They will honeymoon in the Bahamas.

Johnson-Marden. Patricia A. Marden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Marden of Titusville, to Tristram B. Johnson Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah, son of Tristram B. Johnson of 34 Cleveland Lane and Mrs. Roswell Miller of Essex, Conn.; March 4 in Salt Lake City.

The bride is a graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School. She attended Hiram College, in Hiram, Ohio, and graduated from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in 1975. She is employed by Young Fine Art Co. in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Johnson is a 1965 graduate of Berkshire School, Berkshire, Mass. He attended Beloit College, Beloit, Wisc. before joining the Air Force for four years as a Vietnamese language specialist and interpreter. He owned and operated a doughnut shop in Driggs, Idaho, where he was also a ski instructor, and is currently enrolled at the University of Utah, majoring in land management and urban planning.

Elliot-Gaskill. Patricia G. Gaskill, daughter of Mrs. Agnes R. Kolesar and Frank A. Gaskill of Morrisville, to Douglas C. Elliot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Elliot of New Egypt; March 5 in the First Presbyterian Church in Morrisville, the Rev. Clifford G. Pollack officiating.

Mrs. Elliot was graduated from Morrisville High School and York University. She is a project director at Hase-Schannen Research Associates in Princeton Junction. Mr. Elliot, a graduate of Allentown High School and Goldy Beacon College, is a consultant for New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. and publisher of the New Egypt Press.

Following a honeymoon trip to Vermont, they are living in New Egypt.

PEOPLE

In The News

Constance M. Greff of 17 Clover Lane, director of the consulting firm Heritage Studies at 10 Nassau Street, is chairman of a conference Saturday, March 26, at Somerset County College on "Historic Preservation Planning: Worthy Cause of Cause for Worry?" The conference, which is supported by a grant from the New Jersey Committee for the Humanities, is sponsored by the New Jersey Historical Commission, the Historic Sites Section of the State Department of environmental Protection and the National Trust for Historic Preservation, among others.

Participants will debate such issues as the amount of public money spent on historic preservation, how private money can be used, and how to determine which sites and structures should be preserved. Mrs. Greff will moderate a reaction panel consisting of Senator Raymond H. Bateman, Robert Guter of the Morris County Planning Board and John R. Mullen, vice president of corporate relations at Johnson and Johnson.

Prof. Walter Kaufman of 429 Prospect Avenue, a member of the Philosophy Department at Princeton University, is the author of a new book, "The Future of the Humanities," published this week by the Reader's Digest Press. The book is an attempt to influence rather than predict the future of the humanities by offering suggestions for improving the teaching of humanities at the college level.

Invited under a special grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, Prof. Kaufman gave a lecture at Gustavus Adolphus College in Minnesota on the question, "Is There a Kind of Knowledge Available only Through Humanistic Studies?" He also recently presented one of the three main papers at a conference on crime and punishment at the Harvard Law School.

Raymond F. Mate of 76 Cedar Lane, president of Thomas A. Edison College, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the New Jersey Education Consortium and Robert J. Solomon, 51 Braeburn Drive, executive vice president of Educational Testing Service, was one of six new members elected to the board of trustees. The NJEC, 228 Alexander Street, is a private, non-profit organization which serves as a broker for those individuals who want to continue their education but who, for whatever reason, cannot find what they want through more traditional channels.

Kathleen M. Gauthier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Gauthier of 23 Bakers Court, was recently named to the Dean's Honor List for outstanding academic achievement in the fall and January terms at Gettysburg, Pa., College.

John M. Tassie, of 19-12 Hunters Glen Drive, Plainsboro, chairman of the board of Lenox, Inc. has been elected to membership on the Rider College Board of Trustees. He will serve an initial three-year term.

Army Private Scott A. Moomaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Moomaw Jr., 536 Village Road West, Princeton Junction, recently graduated with honors from a nine-week radio operator course at Ft. Gordon, Ga. He is a 1976 graduate of West Windsor-Plainsboro High School and entered the Army in September.

Marine Private Mark A. Burdwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Burdwood of 156 Harrison Street, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Depot, Parris Island, S.C. A 1976 graduate of Princeton High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August, 1976.

Dr. James J. Chandler, F.A.C.S., president of the New Jersey Chapter of the American College of Surgeons, participated in specialized postgraduate courses at the Oschner Clinic in New Orleans, La., for five days. He is chairman of the Department of Surgery at the Medical Center at Princeton and lives at 292 Edgerstone Road.

Dr. Jean E. Simmons of 40 Balsam Lane participated in a five day invitational conference in Hawaii on "East Meets West: Culturally Conditioned Views of the Role of Women." The conference was sponsored by the American Association of University Women, the International Federation of University Women and the East-West Center, an educational institution established by Congress in 1960.

Dr. Simmons is assistant to the president and professor of chemistry at Upsala College. Also attending the conference was Rose M. Fishkin of Rossmore, community relations chairman for AAUW and active in vocational rehabilitation for the mentally, physically and economically handicapped.

Mrs. Connie Wassink, daughter of Mrs. John M. Kuhn of 107 Farber Road, is the recipient of a citation from the Secretary of the Interior for excellence of service in the preparation and conduct of critical documents and activities associated with the Outer Continental Shelf Lease Sale in the Gulf of Alaska. Mrs. Wassink is the wife of Harry Willis Wassink and mother of Miss Melody D. Wassink. They all moved to Anchorage two years ago from Boulder, Colorado.

Marine Private Gary W. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Lewis Jr. of 55 North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, has reported for duty with the 2d Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C. A 1976 graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School, he joined the Marine Corps in October 1976.

Jacques R. Fresco, Ph.D., of 282 Hartley Avenue, chairman of the Department of Biochemical sciences of Princeton University, and James W. Mackenzie, M.D., 369 Dodds Lane chairman of the department of surgery, CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School, have been appointed to the newly formed Scientific Advisory Committee of the Cancer Institute of New Jersey.

Dr. Fresco will represent Princeton University on the Committee, while Dr. Mackenzie will serve in his capacity as acting Director of the Institute. The Scientific Advisory Committee has been formed to provide policy guidance and direction for the Cancer Institute in its development of statewide anti-cancer programs for New Jersey.

THREE PROMOTED

At First National Bank. The promotion of three officers of The First National Bank has been announced by President John F. Hoff, III.

Norman E. Rader was named assistant vice-president and will continue in his post as the officer-in-charge of the mortgage department. Anthony Baldino, Assistant Cashier, was named manager of the 370 Nassau Street Office. He succeeds William Applegate, who assumes duties in the Branch Administrators' Department at the main office.

Also promoted was John Baker, who was named an assistant cashier. Mr. Baker will assume new duties as a loan officer at the 90 Nassau Street office. Previously, he was assistant manager of the bookkeeping department.

Mr. Rader has been with the bank since 1972 as a mortgage loan specialist. He formerly managed a real estate office in Trenton and was also associated with both the Mount Holly Savings and Loan Association and the Stacy Savings and Loan Association.

Mr. Baldino joined the bank in 1972 as a management trainee and was promoted to assistant cashier in 1974. He has been serving as a loan officer in both the main office and the Plainsboro loan production office. A graduate of Brown University, he is a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy Reserve.

Mr. Baker, a graduate of Rutgers, is known in the Princeton area for his many civic activities. He presently is chairman of the board of the Princeton Jaycees; chairman, special fund raising committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and a lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

SEMINAR SCHEDULED

On Housing and Lending. City Federal Savings and Loan Association will host a one day housing seminar Friday at its executive offices in Hillsborough.

Two professors of economics from Princeton University, Dr. Kenneth Rosen and Dr. Dwight Jaffee, will direct the discussion on housing problems and the need to further develop modeling and forecasting techniques for mortgage markets and savings deposits. Special emphasis will be placed on developments in New Jersey.

City Federal, the State's only billion dollar savings and loan association, has invited some 50 knowledgeable individuals in the housing and home financing field to participate in the discussions with Dr. Rosen and Dr. Jaffee. Those invited include representatives of other lending institutions as well as officials of state and federal governments.

City Federal has a newly-opened branch in Quaker Bridge Mall.

EARNINGS UP SHARPLY

At Applied Data Research. Earnings triple those of the previous year on revenues that were 25 percent higher have been reported for Applied Data Research, the computer software firm whose headquarters are on Route 206.

John R. Bennett, ADR president, listed revenue from continuing operations at $15,762,000, compared to $12,738,000 for the year ending December 31, 1975. Reduction of income taxes resulting from carry forward of prior years' operating losses amounted to $384,000, as an extraordinary credit. A similar credit for 1975 was $207,000.

Net earnings were $1,440,164 last year, more than three times the figure of $431,736 for the previous 12 months. Earnings per share, fully diluted, from continuing operations in 1976 were 82 cents, compared to 29 cents for the previous year, while net earnings for the last two years were, respectively, $1.11 and 36 cents.

Mr. Bennett reported that "1976 was a year of significant progress for our company with record sales and earnings. These increases reflect substantial achievement of our goals for the year."

"Our software products continue to set new records in sales and number of installations," he said, "reaching a new high of 6,000 product installations during 1976." He forecast "even greater progress for ADR during 1977," with sales and earnings expected to increase by 25 percent.

Traded on the American Stock Exchange, Applied Data Research's Monday closing is listed in TOWN TOPICS' Weekly Quotations box. The stock was trading at 2 1/2 a year ago and earlier this year reached 6 1/4.

NEW OFFICES OPENED

By Wood & Tower. Wood & Tower, Inc., a Princeton-based construction consulting firm, has announced the opening of offices in Atlanta and Houston.

The firm has expanded its operations to meet a growing need for accurate building cost information. Its services include budgetary, preliminary and detailed estimating for architects, owners, developers, engineering firms, corporate planners, institutions and governmental agencies. Now 26 years old, it also has offices in New York and Chicago.

TO DISCUSS SEWERS

At Watersheds Meeting. The Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association invites concerned citizens to an open meeting Wednesday at 8 at the Watersheds Office, Titus Mill Road, Hopewell Township, between Rt. 31 and Mt. Rose Road.

Included will be a review of population projections, stream flow problems, water supply questions, cost estimates and time frames for completion of alternatives. The meeting will encourage discussion between citizens, council and planning board members and environmental commissioners.

The Watersheds Association will also hold a planning meeting for bicycle tours of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Region Thursday, March 31, at 8 in the headquarters building. Tom Lederer and Lucille Bertuccio would like ideas on planning dates, routes and safety requirements.

A meeting on simple bicycle maintenance for beginners and a movie on bicycle safety will be shown Sunday, April 17 at 2, and the first tour of 15-20 miles is set for Saturday, April 30. Details of this and other tours will be decided at the March 31 meeting.

For further information call Ms. Bertuccio, program director, at 737-3735.

APRIL 7 IS DEADLINE

For Award Applications. High school students who are interested in vocational studies after graduation are invited to apply for a Career Development Award. The deadline for completing applications is April 7.

Students who will graduate this June and who are in need of financial assistance to enable them to study such things as nursing, accounting, electronics, industrial design, secretarial, medical technology, commercial art and many other vocational subjects should see their high school guidance counselor for information and an application for a CDA award. Students from high schools in Princeton, East Windsor, Montgomery and Lawrence townships are eligible, as well as students who recently graduated.

Career Development Awards are supported by the business and educational leaders of the Princeton area in order to help worthy students who otherwise could not continue their vocational education.

A FEW PROPOSALS
A most moving letter came to me from a constituent recently. It concerned an elderly parent in a nursing home in the Medicaid program, and it portended a regulation which forbids a nursing home patient to be absent more than 18 days a year without forfeiting Medicaid support. (I read about this in the newspaper, too, by coincidence on the same day.)

It is hard to see how such a rule can be justified. For the nursing home patient a visit at home is the bright spot of the week. Not all patients are strong and well enough to come home, but for those who are it is a cruel thing to be forbidden. For the family, equally—a working couple, or a single worker—a weekend visit when the whole family can be together is a great joy. It is important for grandchildren not to lose touch with grandparents—a point that has often been stressed by students of juvenile behavior.

In fact, in a time when sociologists and many others have expressed alarm about the progressive weakening of the family structure, it is absurd to find that government itself is putting roadblocks in the way of family unity.

Reading and rereading this letter, I was struck by another idea: There may be many households where it would be entirely practical for an elderly relative to stay home all the time, if some sort of nursing care or companionship could be provided. Why institutionalize a person at considerable expense to the public (about $900 a month as an average in New Jersey), if home care can be provided for less?

There may be many a worker who would be able to stay home if care for an elderly relative could bring in a stipend to contribute to household expenses, even if it were considerably less than $900. And, if eligibility was based on the same qualifications which now govern eligibility for the Medicaid nursing home program, there would be no danger of overuse of abuse.

Further Possibilities. It occurs to me that this plan might be extended to the mentally retarded or handicapped also. Some handicapped people need an institutional setting for training programs which may otherwise be unavailable, or for medical reasons, but others may be members of a family which just needs a little help in order to care for the handicapped person at home. Again, as in the case of the nursing home patient, the qualifications that entitle someone to institutional care would be used to decide who is eligible for the home stipend.

Another government regulation, equally destructive of family ties—which also came in a letter from a constituent—apparently forbids a grandmother, living in a certain senior citizens' project, to babysit for a pre-school grandchild. I have already written Secretary Califano about the nursing home question and I will follow through on the others.

Perhaps I might add a personal note here. I am often asked why I get to the office so early—6:30 in the morning or so. The answer is that this is when I read letters like these, telling me what is really happening to the people I represent.

The mail comes in a big package, wrapped in string dropped at the door at 6:45.

The doors to the corridor are open and I hear it fall.

I would not give up these early hours for anything--before the work of the day starts, the working breakfasts, the visitors, before the committee meetings and hearings--before the House goes into session. The early hours are, for me, the time that reveals how some of the Federal programs--however well meant--are really working out in the lives of people.

This is where ideology and planning are brought to account. It's an invaluable lesson in the difference between theory and practice.

Advice Asked. Another personal note: in the losing struggle to have the recent Congressional pay raises brought up for a vote, I discovered that a district-wide "postal patron" questionnaire or newsletter, through the use of the franking privilege, used to cost the public about $20,000 for 150,000 pieces mailed. I did not realize that these were mailed first class and I am glad I sent out only one since I was first elected in 1974.

The new regulation--which I endorsed--will send these by third class mail. But I would very much like to hear from the Fifth District--do you think the questionnaire is worth it to you, whether first class or third? It is valuable to the Representative to know the views of constituents, but is it worth it to the constituents, who are, after all, paying for the whole exercise? Do let me know.

In case you are wondering about the cost of these "Reports" which go to newspapers and to people who have asked for them, the cost is about $175 a month. I write them myself and I think they are a good way to let people know what is going on. From what I hear from the public, these are worth the relatively small expense.

LIKE A PHOENIX

Field Fire at PDS. A field fire behind Headmaster Douglas McClure's house at Princeton Day School Thursday claimed approximately 5,000 square feet.

Mr. McClure told police that the fire started around 10 in the morning when someone threw a burning cigarette on the ground. The flames were believed to have been extinguished at that time.

Mr. McClure said that he later checked the scorched area again at 2 and there was no fire, but at 6:40 p.m. it was reported burning again by PDS students. The fire was nearly out upon the arrival of Ptl. Peter Savalli, who put out the remaining burning grass with a water extinguisher. One piece of fire apparatus was sent to hose down the area.

The previous day, Fire Chief Anthony Kristaponis and Ptl. William Potts checked a fire in a stereo set that filled the home of Mrs. Frank H. Johnson, 590 Lake Drive, with smoke.

Nothing else was damaged, police said.

CAR WINDOW SHATTERED

On Prospect Avenue. The rear window of a station wagon parked Friday afternoon on Prospect Avenue was shattered but police report that they don't know what kind of instrument was used in the vandalism. The car is owned by a Trenton resident.

A storm window and a regular window were broken last week when a bottle was thrown through both of them in the home of a Witherspoon Lane residence at 10:17 in the evening.

Rev. John Crocker, Jr. Accepts Call to Serve As Rector of Trinity Church Effective Sept. 1

The Rev. John Crocker Jr., Episcopal chaplain at MIT, has accepted a call to be rector of Trinity Church, effective September 1. His nomination was recommended to, and accepted by, the wardens and vestry from the search committee headed by Christopher R.P. Rodgers which met for 35 weeks to find the best possible candidate.

He succeeds the Rev. James R. Whittemore who resigned at the end of January to become head of the Seamen's Church Institute in New York City. Father Whittemore served as rector for 10 years.

Father Crocker has held his present post at MIT since 1969. Before then, he was Canon of the Cathedral of St. John in Providence, R.I., where for more than a decade he led the Episcopal College Church at Brown University and the Rhode Island School of Design. His ministry in Providence was based in the parish of St. Stephens.

The new rector spent seven years during the 1930's in Princeton, when his father was Episcopal chaplain at the University. He received his diploma in 1942 from Groton School, where his father was headmaster, and attended Harvard College for a year before joining the Navy Air Corps to serve as a torpedo and dive bomber pilot during World War II. He returned to Harvard and received his A.B. degree in 1948.

After teaching high school English for a few years, he entered Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge in 1951 and graduated with honors in 1954. His first church position was as curate at Trinity Church in Boston. Married to the former Elinor Winslow in 1946, he has three children: John, 22, graduating from Harvard in June, a daughter, Norrie, 21, working in real estate in Newton, Mass., and Matthew, 14, who is graduating from Friends School in Cambridge.

Father Crocker has served on many diocesan and national committees and commissions. In his present post as Episcopal chaplain at MIT, he has organized and led seminars on value issues relating to science and technology. He was recently honored by being asked to lecture at the College of Preachers.

The new rector will bring more than 20 years of counseling experience in which he has assisted people of all ages and conditions. He has had organizational and administrative positions both in and outside the parish setting. According to a letter sent to Trinity parishioners by wardens Henry Bessire and Leighton H. Laughlin, Father Crocker has had an opportunity to review Trinity's recently-adopted Master Plan and is in accord with its objectives.

A member of Kingston Presbyterian church, he was a trustee of the church for more than 30 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Normanna Shaw Hume; a son, Norman M. Hume of West Chester, Pa.; a brother, Nathaniel, and two sisters, Mrs. Barbara Melcrose and Mrs. Elizabeth Gilchrist, in Scotland, and three grandchildren.

The service was led in the Kingston Presbyterian Church, the Rev. John Heinshon, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Jarron Maksymovich of Ridge Road, Hopewell died March 20 in Hunterdon Medical Center. A retired employee of the Rockwell Manufacturing Company in Hopewell, Mrs. Maksymovich was born in the Ukraine and lived in Hopewell for more than 35 years.

Surviving are her husband, Nicholas Maksymovich, and a brother, Walter Jarron of Bothell, Wash.

The service will be held Wednesday at 2 in the Cromwell Funeral Home, 71 East Prospect Street, Hopewell. The Rev. Eugene Tarriss of Sts. Peter and Paul's Orthodox Church, Manville, will officiate. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Julia Anderson Spinner, 58, of Rossmore and Marco Island, Fla., died March 15 in Naples Community Hospital in Florida. Mrs. Spinner lived in Princeton for 18 years before moving to Florida four years ago.

Surviving are her husband, George P. Spinner; three daughters, Mrs. Alicia Tarry of Lewisburg, Pa.; Mrs. Elsie Brown of Washington Crossing, Pa.; and Miss Ellen Spinner of Philadelphia; a son, Howard Spinner of Chicago, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Schipke, Miss Gertrude Anderson and Mrs. Dorothy Wright of Connecticut; and four grandchildren.

A memorial service was held in the Princeton United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Donna C. Mazzola, 33, of Green Avenue, Belle Mead, died March 21 in Tenacre Foundation. She lived in Belle Mead since September, 1969, and prior to then in Clinton, N.Y., for seven years.

She is survived by her husband, Christian L. Mazzola; a son, Colin, at home; her parents, Franklin and Doris Campbell of Southern Pines, S.C.; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Arnold of Southern Pines; a brother, Bruce Campbell of Hopewell; and two sisters, Mrs. Heather Wheeler of Washington, D.C., and Miss Robin Campbell of Southern Pines.

The service will be Friday at 2 in the Mather Funeral Home, 40 Vandeventer Avenue. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Tenacre Friendly Fund.

Walter Gellner, 48, of Blawenburg, owner and operator of Expressions, a gift shop in the Princeton Shopping Center, died March 15 in Princeton Medical Center.

Born in New York City, he lived in this area for 15 years. He received a B.A. degree from New York University and was an Army veteran of the Korean conflict and a member of Flemington Post 7859, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ellen Gellner; a daughter, Miss Barbara Gellner of Florida; two sons, Stephen and Tony Gellner, at home; his father, John Gellner of Flemington, and a brother, John Gellner Jr. of Hopewell Township.

Graveside services were held in Princeton Cemetery, The Rev. Walter Coats, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pennington, officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton Medical Center.

Mrs. Zambela Psomostithis, 87, of Lawrenceville, died March 16 in Mercer Medical Center. She was a native of Greece and was a member of the Philoptochos Society.

Wife of the late Nicholas Psomostithis, she is survived by a son-in-law, George Mellis of Lawrenceville; two granddaughters, Mrs. Helen K. Hill of Trenton and Mrs. Isabella Kaminaris of Wilmington, Del.; a grandson, Nicholas Mellis of Lawrenceville; four sisters including Mrs. Rose Mustakis of Wheaton, Md., and Mrs. Barbara Sitaris of Newark, Del., and two sisters in Greece, and a great-granddaughter, Evangelina Kaminaris.

The service was held in St. George's Greek Orthodox Church, the Rev. Peter A. Atsiles officiating. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the building fund of St. George's Greek Orthodox Church.

News Of The CHURCHES

REVIVAL PLANNED

At Baptist Church. First Baptist Church, John Street and Paul Robeson Place, will be the scene Sunday of a total community youth revival. The public is invited.

The schedule will begin at 9 with spiritual fellowship and church school until 10:30. Coffee, doughnuts and juice will be served. From 10:40 to 1 there will be morning worship with the Rev. Michael Owens, a dynamic 19-year old preacher from Chester Pa.

Free dinner will be served following the morning service. Skits and other forms of drama will be performed by various community groups. From 2:15 - 3:15 there will be rap sessions on love with and without marriage, the church, school and careers with and without training. A musical jamboree with various area singing groups will be held from 3:30 to 5, after which Pastor Owens will give the closing message.

MOZART'S REQUIEM SET

At Nassau Church. The 56-voice adult choir of the Nassau Presbyterian Church will sing Mozart's Requiem Sunday at the 11 a.m. service. Soloists, all chosen from the choir, include Joan Hemer, soprano; Jane Smith, alto; Bruce LaBar, tenor; and Robert Jacks, bass.

Anna Royer, until recently assistant organist of the church, will be guest organist for this work. Mary Krimmel will direct the Requiem. The organ prelude for this service will be Bach's "O Guiltless Lamb of God" played by Miss Royer.

GAY COUNSELOR HERE

For Talk At University. Guy Charles, once a key man in the Gay Activist movement, will speak at Princeton University on Monday night at 8 in Kresge Auditorium, Frick Hall. The lecture is sponsored by the Alpha-Omega fellowship, a student prayer group affiliated with the University Chapel.

As news and media director for the GAA (Gay Activist Alliance) of New York, Mr. Charles was instrumental in advancing gay liberation on the national scene. He was the only admitted homosexual writing for a gay newspaper to receive press credentials from the New York City and District of Columbia police as an accredited news correspondent. As founder of the ministry "Liberation in Jesus Christ," he has been counseling gays in person, by correspondence, and by phone.

His ministry is also educating Christians that the homosexual must be ministered to through the Word of God and not cast aside as unredeemable. Those wishing to learn more about ministry to homosexuals are invited to attend a seminar Monday at 4:30 in East Pyne 120.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Bunker Hill Lutheran Church in Griggstown will present a concert by a group called "The Eastmen Quartet" Friday at 7:30.

"He Restoreth My Soul," a new Gospel Films, Inc., release will be shown at the church Sunday at 7. The film is the true story of Merrill Womach who was critically burned in the crash of the twin engine plane he was flying alone enroute to Spokane, Wash., to spend Thanksgiving Day with his family. Fond of singing with a voice range that covers more than four octaves, Mr. Womach endured more than 50 operations and months of surgery, and his story is an inspiration.

The Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street, will continue its mid-week Lenten series on "The Trials of Jesus" with a talk Wednesday at 7:30 by the Rev. Allen A. Gartner, pastor, entitled, "We Find Him Guilty." A filmstrip will be shown. The community is invited.

The Rev. Leslie M. Kolbjornsen, assistant minister at Nassau Presbyterian Church, will lead the noon Lenten service Thursday from 12:10 - 12:30 in the Niles Chapel. Her topic will be "I thirst," part of a continuing series on "The Seven Last Words from the Cross." Worshipers are invited to bring a sack lunch and join for coffee and tea provided by the church after the service.

Dan Obstein, one of the co-founders of the Forum Project in Trenton, will make a brief presentation on the work of this agency at Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street, during the Sunday morning worship services at 8:30 and 11.

During the Lent and Easter season the Messiah congregation is involved in a special "Love Cup" offering for the Forum Project, an agency involved in providing emergency food assistance to people in the Trenton area. Anyone wishing to make a contribution of food or money is invited to call the church, 924-3642.

Dr. Deborah P. Wolfe, educator and ordained preacher of the gospel, and Mrs. Elsie Bookhart, ordained elder in the Presbyterian church and vice president of the National Council of Negro Women, Inc., will be the guest speakers Sunday for Women's Day at Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, 170 Witherspoon Street. Dr. Wolfe will speak at 11, Mrs. Bookhart at 3:30. The theme for the day is "Women: Frontline Warriors for Christ."

The public is invited.

OBITUARIES

David S. Hume, 81, of 14 Euclid Avenue, Kingston, died March 20 in Princeton Medical Center. He was employed by Princeton University for 41 years and at the time of his retirement was a general foreman with the department of buildings and grounds.

Born in Scotland, he came to this country in 1919 and lived in Kingston for 47 years. He received his 50-year membership pin last year from the Princeton Lodge 58, Free and Accepted Masons. He was also a member for more than 50 years of the Odd Fellows, and he belonged to the Tall Cedars of Lebanon of Trenton and Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of Trenton.

NOTICE

In compliance with a ruling of the State Supreme Court, all newspapers must ascertain that employment ads do not discriminate between sexes.

For example, titles such as "Salesman," "Nurse" and "Girl Friday" should be replaced, respectively, by "Salesperson," "Nurse (M/W)" and "General Office Work M/W".

TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

THREE HEAVENLY ACRES

At least 28 kinds of trees - hardwood, specimen, evergreen and flowering - plus at least 10 flowering and 6 evergreen shrubs, plus bulbs, wildflowers and perennials backed by woods and trails to walk on - sound like Paradise? It is. Large living room with fireplace, nice dining room, superb eat-in kitchen, study-bedrooms; 2 more bedrooms, 2 baths and - the piece de resistance - a lovely "garden room with tile floor and raised fireplace, round out the living space in the house. Which brings us to the 150 year old barn, roomy enough for cars and a horse below, and above an adorable 3 room apartment for in-laws, teenagers, caretakers, or what you will. Solidly built, perfectly maintained, and planned to take full visual advantage of its truly beautiful setting, this is a very special property

$125,000

CHOCK FULL OF CHARM

and shiny clean and neat as a pin from top to bottom, this 3 or possibly 4-bedroom Cape Cod has just about everything a family of 3 or 4 - or possibly 5 - could want! Living room with beamed ceiling and fireplace, kitchen, adjoining breakfast room with wet bar, 3 bedrooms, den or 4th bedroom, 2 baths, enclosed porch - all are delightful, but the highlight has to be the surprisingly spacious dining room opening on a greenhouse! There's a good basement too, with workshop space, laundry tub, and a possible play area. All on a lovely, low-care acre complete with brook and birdcover, and backed by old woods and yet comfortably convenient to good shopping. This LIGHT listing is really a bright one at the low-for-Princeton asking price of

"FERNWOOD"

"Fougeres des Bois" (or something of the sort) should be the name of this enchanting house since it looks, inside and out, like a "maison" straight from the French countryside! White stucco, dark wood trim, rough plaster walls, exposed beams, nooks, crannies, arched doorway, etc., all contribute to the look. Entrance hall, big stepdown living room with fireplace, dining room with built-in china cupboards, paneled library with fireplace, charming kitchen with eating space, paneled family room, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, laundry/utility room make delightful family living space. Added practical assets are many, with the topper a highly rental studio apartment with separate entrance.

A screen fenced brick terrace overlooks a natural, rockstrewn 2 1/2 acres and big woods, in which is a tree house designed, believe it or not, by Robert Hillier. Our NEW LIGHT LISTING est tres charmant!

Asking $120,000

JUST NORTH OF PRINCETON OVERLOOKING THE BEDENS BROOK VALLEY COME SEE A MAJESTIC NEW CONTEMPORARY WITH A VIEW.

This artist's sketch gives a pretty good approximation of what our newest contemporary will be like. Inside you'll find an airy cathedral ceiling in the living room and a massive stone fireplace, a large informal dining room, a relaxing separate family room with a beautiful view and a convenient eat-in kitchen with easy access to all rooms. In the bedroom wing will be a spacious master bedroom suite with a view, and two additional comfortable family bedrooms and a full bath. The single level design is exceptional as is the floor plan, while such features as a dramatic sunken living room should further distinguish this home from any others in the area. Call us soon to review the plans with our excellent builder, or bring your plans and let us impress you with the value we can build for you near or in Princeton. $105,000

A SPLENDID HOME IN A PARK LIKE SETTING: SPACIOUS WONDERFULLY WOODED, FAMILY ORIENTED, AND BRAND NEW TO THE MARKET.

You won't believe how beautiful the grounds are of this lovely 4-5 bedroom colonial home, which features an extraordinary in-ground pool and patio area. Inside, you'll find an elegant raised living room, a separate formal dining room, a tastefully paneled family room with built-in bookshelves, and a free standing colonial brick hearth, and a convenient eat-in kitchen with a laundry room and powder room nearby. Upstairs the bedroom layout is excellent with a separate master suite with its own full bath. Complete with a circular driveway, central air conditioning, an AM/FM intercom, and a private park like setting that you'll enjoy all year round.

A COUNTRY BRICK COLONIAL BACKING UP TO SOURLAND MOUNTAIN PARK.

This handsome all-brick colonial is situated on a beautiful three acre site at the foot of Sourland Mountain. Inside, you'll find an entry foyer, a living room with fireplace, a large elegant dining room, a separate study and a completely modern kitchen. HOUSE OF THE WEEK

THINK SPRING, SUMMER AND SWIMMING Come see this to believe! A very creative couple started with a basic colonial in a good neighborhood and added - at considerable expense - a Hillier-designed wing to insure their total comfort. The master bedroom suite alone includes a sitting room, two dressing rooms, full bath and office! Of course, there's also a family room with fireplace, spacious living room, formal dining room, family kitchen, three other bedrooms and two and a half baths...all dramatically decorated and in perfect condition. Outside features a superb pool completely fenced and landscaped. Air conditioning, full basement and two-car garage, mais oui! It's expensive, but for the right person, worth every penny!

I CAN'T MOVE!

But, if I could, I would undoubtedly choose this restored older colonial located in the Boro of Hopewell. It not only has 3 bedrooms, bath and large eat-in kitchen, but a beautiful living room with bayed window, 33' long sun porch and lovely wainscoted dining room. An added plus is a studio over the 2 car garage, complete with its own heating system, electric and phone lines. This new listing is most reasonably priced at $60,500

A HOME FOR ALL SEASONS This Montgomery Township rancher is the ideal family home in every season. As cold as the winter has been, you can keep warm by the stone fireplace in the living room or Franklin stove in the large family room. The three zone heat gives you the option of controlling the temperature throughout the house. In spring you can enjoy the almost one and one-half acres with fruit trees, including apple, peach, pear and cherry, as well as the sunken rear patio. To all of this add a huge custom kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, slate entry foyer, attic, full basement and central air conditioning. Who could ask for more!

Reduced to $78,500

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY WITH COMMERCIAL POTENTIAL - A substantial older colonial on almost an acre which has been zoned for neighborhood commercial use. There are 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, panelled study, kitchen, dining room, living room with fireplace, screened porch, garage and basement. Ideal location for professional offices.

Offered at $85,000

NEW LAWRENCEVILLE LISTING

Space and charm are the keynotes for this well built colonial house in University Park. From the gracious entrance hall to the living room with marble fireplace, pleasant dining room, bright modern eat-in kitchen and family room, one can see the house is perfect for a large active family.

A real plus is a big screened porch for summer fun. The five bedrooms, two and a half baths, two car garage, tremendous storage, walk-in cedar closet and beautifully landscaped corner lot would make this property a joy to own.

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP

A superb Colonial-style house nestled in a pine grove of approximately an acre and a half. There is an entry foyer floored with quarry tile opening to a formal living and dining room. A super modern kitchen, wonderfully equipped with a large breakfast area. A family room handsomely detailed including rustic fireplace. Full bath. There are five bedrooms on the second floor with two full baths. A sixth bedroom or studio below. This is a beautifully maintained property, large spacious, yet manageable. The present owner is asking $157,000

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

Here is a magnificent early American style saltbox house on just over one acre of lawns and trees. Country living yet only minutes from Nassau Street. Just over a year old the house is in beautifully maintained condition. The central foyer opens to living and dining rooms, then to a very special room - a family room-country kitchen combination with cathedral ceiling balcony and early-American staircase. The fireplace in this unusual room is a magnificent Williamsburg replica. There is also an adjoining private study or bedroom complete with bath on this ground floor level. The second floor has master bedroom suite plus two other family bedrooms. A truly superb offering at $165,000

HAMILTON TOWNSHIP

A lovely white frame bungalow in beautiful condition. Double living room, dining, kitchen, 2 bedrooms, 1 bath. Second floor expandable into additional family bedrooms.
Full basement with game room. $35,000

THREE INTERESTING RENTALS

A charming townhouse completely furnished with magnificent antiques. Within walking distance of University and town. For the very discriminating Lessee. References will be required.

A handsomely modernized house in the Borough with every feature for the young active family, including location. The rear garden with heated swimming pool is a true beauty spot. Three spacious bedrooms, a bath for each. $1,000 a month

In the convenient Riverside area, a contemporary house with large living and dining areas, fine modern kitchen, private study and four family bedrooms with three baths. $650 a month

WEST WINDSOR

On beautifully landscaped property in suburban West Windsor's nicest areas, here is a fine traditional house. Only six years old, the house has been maintained in truly superb condition and is fully equipped for contemporary family living. There are handsome formal living and dining room, a spacious country kitchen, family playroom and private study with powder room. Above are four bedrooms and two full baths. $97,500

PRINCETON BOROUGH LOT

Convenient to town, on a pleasant curving street in the Western Section is found that rarity - a ¾ acre plot with trees and natural ground cover. $50,000

WEST WINDSOR

On a nicely wooded lot in a quiet cul-de-sac only moments from Princeton, King's Grant is pleased to offer a well maintained split level home.

The garden level consists of family room with raised hearth fireplace and guest bedroom with full bath. Main entrance level living and dining room, country kitchen, and large screened porch. Three bedrooms and full bath on the top level. Now available at $74,500

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

A five bedroom traditional house on a spacious acre and a third lot, handsomely landscaped. There is a large living room with fireplace, a formal dining room and an informal keeping room with fireplace. Also on the lower level is a great family playroom with yet another fireplace. The present owner is asking $139,000

Most Forms of Crime Record Sharp Decrease in Borough in 1976

"Crime is down, but this is not a barometer for police activity and police involvement."

In fact, it is Chief Michael Carnevale's contention, after he reviewed his annual police report for 1976, that the police are busier than ever.

"All the Bicentennial events, the parade permits, the demonstrations put a lot of pressure on the police department. These are things that have to be sandwiched in with other police services."

Chief Carnevale went on to say that there was no doubt in his mind that Princeton is a focal point for demonstrations. "Everyone has to come to Princeton to do his thing."

"So it is not just crime but total commitment to the community that police are involved in on a 24-hour basis."

In the Borough during 1976 in major crimes under the Uniform Crime Reporting Classification, breaking and enterings were down sharply to 178 from 252, armed robberies down to 11 from 24, robberies (no weapons) down to 4 from 8 and simple assault down to 46 from 67.

DEMONSTRATION REQUIRES POLICE SUPERVISION: Sale of gold coins from South Africa by Princeton Bank and Trust Co. last week drew a line of protesting pickets demanding that the bank cease doing business with that country's apartheid government. The demonstration was organized by the People's Front for the Liberation of Southern Africa, formed by the Third World Center at Princeton University.

Auto theft (7) was also less than half, down from 16, while atrocious assaults was the same at 2. There were no murders, compared to 1 in '75.

There were increases in vehicle accidents (231), 10 less larcenies-theft, up 20 to 474, involving injuries (85), two less involving pedestrians (8) $358,256 in property stolen, and less than half involving bicycles, 9 down from 19. There were 14 fewer summonses issued for accidents (214) but two fatal accidents, one more than the previous year. Police answered 955 alarms, up 180.

In 1976 there were 890 police investigations that required a written report and follow-up investigation by detectives—142 less than the previous year. Of the 890, 818 were in the major crime area. Two hundred thirty-four cases were cleared by arrest last year, a 21.8 percent increase over the 192 cleared in '75.

The arrest of two suspects early in 1976 allowed police to clear 69 breaking and enterings, prompting Chief Carnevale to write: "...the incarceration of this two-man crime wave was probably a significant factor in the 1976 decrease in crime."

Nearly 43,000 Summonses. Borough police issued 42,942 summonses in 1976, more than 4,000 over the previous year, and of these, 40,301 were parking violations. Of the latter, the biggest slice by far was overtime parking, resulting in 28,628 tickets. There were 28,227 in '75. All night parking violators numbered 5,148.

Speeding infractions were up from 1,108 to 1,247 of which 1,111 were detected by the department's portable speed gun. Red light violations were up sharply from 188 to 300, attributable, Chief Carnevale said, to "selective enforcement," but careless driving offenses dipped to 67 from 147.

Comparing 1976 with 1975, there were 53 fewer motor

Ford Foundation Grant to McCarter Theatre Could Become a Form of Endowment by 1982

McCarter has been given a Ford Foundation grant amounting to $342,189 — but it's a script whose happy ending depends on McCarter itself and its community support.

The theatre has received $85,548 as the first installment. The rest will come in three installments over a five-year period ending in fiscal 1981.

But..... Payment of each installment will be made only if McCarter successfully balances assets and liabilities at the end of each fiscal year.

ling on the cake. "You might say we can have our cake and eat it, too," he continued, "but we won't get any more cake unless we keep our budget in balance and repay what we have taken out."

Then, quickly changing into another metaphor, he added, "There's a pot of gold at the end of the five-year rainbow." Mr. Morgan praised Mr. Kahn and McCarter's general manager, Ed Martinson, for negotiating the grant. The job took 18 months, he said.

"We take great pride in McCarter's selection for the grant," Mr. Morgan told the press conference. "The Ford people spent some ten months in rigorous examination of McCarter's governance, financial position and financial management." "It was awarded," Mr. Kahn added, "on the basis of financial stability, artistic merit — and last year's reorganization of the theatre."

Rejection at First. Traditionally, Ford hasn't given grants to university theatre. Four years ago, when McCarter made tentative approaches, the Ford reply was, "Don't bother."

But last year, there was reorganization. The McCarter Theatre Company was for-

News Of The THEATRES

"We can't slip, we can't have a deficit," warned producing director Michael Kahn at a Friday press conference announcing the grant.

If McCarter is able to perform its balancing act each year, it will have the right to permanent possession of all the installments—$342,189 at the end of the fifth year.

"The money goes into a cash reserve fund each year," explained Arthur P. Morgan, president of McCarter's board of trustees. "We can dip into it, if we need money to meet a temporary cash shortage, but we must restore it by the end of the fiscal year in order to receive future installments."

med. Princeton University no longer has the theatre under its wing.

The Company is separate; more than two-thirds of its trustees have no connection with the University, and the Company now has broad-based community support. Princeton University is still a big supporter, but so are others.

Although Mr. Morgan warns that the grant "by no means" solves all McCarter's financial problems and sends the cast off into the rosy sunset, he and other Company trustees and Mr. Kahn are happy and hopeful because McCarter never has had an accumulated deficit.

Last year's operating deficit was $386,000. It was made up by money from the National Endowment for the Arts, the New Jersey Arts Council, McCarter Associates, Princeton University and other gifts. The next operating deficit, Mr. Morgan estimated, will be $408,000.

Ticket Sales Inadequate. He explained, while Mr. Kahn nodded sadly, that operating costs can never be covered by ticket sales alone.

"A balanced operating picture will continue to depend on contributions to cover the operating deficit," he said. "In fact, contributions must increase in each of the next four years, so McCarter can keep pace with inflation and maintain a balanced budget."

Continued support from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts and corporations throughout McCarter's audience area will be vital, he emphasized.

"The consequences of not meeting the grant requirements would be painful," Mr. Kahn remarked, "but the rewards for successfully meeting them will be very high."

What will McCarter do with its $342,189 in 1982?

Mr. Morgan, a banker by profession, would like to use it as an endowment, perhaps invested conservatively at around 6 percent or 7 percent.

"That would be a very nice cushion," he said happily.

Funds from Leased Plays. "Ford saw that we have potential for fund-raising," Mr. Martinson told reporters.

Mr. Kahn said McCarter hopes once again to work out an arrangement with the Annenberg Theatre in Philadelphia. The current one has been profitable, he said. Annenberg leases, for a fixed fee, plays which are performed there after their McCarter run. Discussions are now going on regarding the lease of four or five of next season's plays, Mr. Kahn said.

He also revealed that he would like to take his productions on tour, to the far

Ready to Subscribe?

The spring subscription drive is now on at McCarter, and management hopes to top this season's 12,000 subscribers (up from the previous season's 9,000).

Plays "under consideration," in producing director Michael Kahn's words, are Kaufman & Hart's "Once in a Lifetime" or Robert E. Sherwood's "Reunion in Vienna," a toss-up between Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" or Schiller's "Mary Stuart."

American premieres? Always at least one on the program. It could be Eduardo De Filippo's "Grand Magic" — the playwright is a contemporary Italian dramatist — or E. A. Whitehead's "Old Flames."

On the world-premiere side, it could be a new adaptation of Strindberg's "To Damascus" or what Mr. Kahn calls "a Moliere surprise."

And finally, Lillian Hellman's "Toys in the Attic" or Ibsen's "Little Eolf."

coastal marshes of New Jersey — Asbury Park, Atlantic City and even Glassboro.

"We represent the state, culturally," he said. He also promised to continue McCarter's mix of classics and world premieres — "an adventurous, balanced program because I think this is what our audiences want."

Incidentally, the grant's odd-numbered figure of $342,189 represents 30 percent of the 1975-76 operating expenses.

"An arbitrary figure," Mr. Martinson said, "based on what the Ford people could afford."

JULIE AS EMILY

Try for the Matinee. The two evening performances of "The Belle of Amherst" are sold out, but McCarter still has tickets to the matinee, scheduled for Tuesday, April 5, at 2.

usually regarded as America's most famous female poet. The presentation was a hit on Broadway last season, and has set box-office records this year on tour.

Born in Amherst, in western Massachusetts, in 1830, Emily Dickinson wrote 1,775 poems in the course of a lifetime that lasted to 1886. Only a few were published. Those she submitted to the editors of her day were regarded as too daring in both form and substance.

A witty, fun-loving girl, she withdrew from the world after an emotional crisis early in her thirties, and lived in her Amherst home — "The Homestead" — as a recluse.

COREA AND CLARKE

Dillon Gym. Return to Forever, a group which came out of the mid-1970's evolution of the jazz-rock movement, will play Dillon Gym Sunday, May 8, at 8 p.m., bringing founder Chick Corea and Stanley Clarke to Princeton as part of their Spring 1977 Reunion Tour. Tickets are on sale at McCarter.

The four members of Return to Forever — Chick Corea, Stanley Clarke, Al Dimeola and Lenny White — disbanded a year ago to follow separate careers, but Corea and Clarke decided to reunite the group for a brief spring tour of major cities. Princeton is the only college engagement.

...AND ADIDAS

New Sharp Ballet. "A New Work for Adidas and Point Shoes" will receive its premiere at McCarter when its choreographer, Twyla Tharp, brings her 12 dancers to Princeton on Tuesday, April 12 (8 p.m.).

In addition to her new work, Ms. Tharp and her Company will perform two earlier compositions from her repertoire. They are "The Fugue," from 1970, originally intended to demonstrate contrapuntal work, and "The Bix Pieces," a suite of five dances set to the music of Bix Biederbecke and Paul Whiteman's orchestra.

TWO ONE-ACTERS

By Players. A pair of one-act plays will be given a special, single performance this Sunday at 8 p.m. by Princeton Community Players in their 171 Broadmead theatre. Admission is free, and the public is invited.

Pirandello's "The Man with the Flower in His Mouth," starring Jon Lorraine and Roger Lipman will be first on the program. John Del Monte is directing. Mr. Lorraine appeared in the Players' "The Gingerbread Lady" and Mr. Lipman, who has been in many PCP offerings, will be in the cast of "The Importance of Being Earnest" later this spring.

"The Loveliest Afternoon of the Year" is the second of the two plays. The play, by John Guare, will be directed by Ed Watkinson. Actors will be Jane Beard, whom audiences will remember for her work in "Marigolds," and a newcomer to the Players, George Barlow.

STUDENTS TO SING

In New York. Guest singers this Sunday at New York's Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Holy Trinity, where the Bach Cantata series, "Evenings with Johann S." are held, will be members of the Princeton High School Choir, under the direction of William Trego. The concert will be presented at 5 p.m.

A motet by Brahms, "Ach Arme Welt," will open the program, followed by Bruckner's "Os Justi Meditabitur Sapientiam." Johann Christian Bach's double choir motet, "Ich lasse dich nicht," with the Chorale by J.S. Bach, will close the first set.

Benjamin Britten's Missa Brevis for treble voices and organ will be sung by the women of the choir, Nancianne Parrella at the organ. The full choir will sing two motets by Maurice Durufle, "Ubi Caritas" and "Tu es Patrus," followed by the composer's organ work, choral variations on the theme, "Veni Creator." The men of the choir will sing Gregorian chant verses, on which the composition is based, between the variations. This section of the concert will close with four compositions by Mendelssohn, the motet "Herr nun lassest" (opus 69) and three selections from "Sechs Spruche" (Opus 79.)

The concert will close with Britten's "Rejoice in the Lamb," set to the words of the 18th-century poet, Christopher Smart. Soloists will be Amy Ford, soprano; Katherine Hilst, alto and Miles Pratt, bass, all of whom are members of the choir.

AUDITIONS....

For Children's Play. Actors experienced in working with children, or teachers who like to act are invited to audition for Creative Theatre Unlimited's "Magical Faces." Try outs will be held from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. to 10

GOOD TO THE LAST TWO DROPS: Michael and Johnnie Hill, in a still from their Maxwell House coffee commercial. The twins have been signed by Paramount for a pilot TV series about a pair of twin girl detectives.

It was on Valentine's Day that Paramount sent for them to make a screen test in Hollywood. There are five other sets of female twins who auditioned, but Michael and Johnnie Hill of Princeton, were the only black ones.

".....and they picked us!" laughs Michael with delight.

It's a pilot for a TV series about a pair of twin girl detectives. Shooting will be in Hollywood this summer - the Hill twins will relocate from Leigh Avenue - for release in the summer of '78.

"Other twins who tested had mostly done only commercials," Michael says. "The Barnstables are the Toni twins, for example, and the Ackers are the Wrigley twins."

"But we've done so much singing, dancing, modeling - we know how to move and flow. And of course, we know karate - we've taught it at Princeton University and at the 'Y' and we think that was a plus for us. And there's Johnnie's film, 'Velvet Smooth,' which will be released around here in the summer."

"We Sailed Right Through." "You know, you're nervous doing a test, but we really felt relaxed and we did our best. They changed our script three times, but we sailed right through, and we put in our own ideas, to make it more like ourselves....."

"I've never been so proud of myself in my life!"

Michael and Johnnie Hill, Princeton born and bred, were involved in sports and singing during their years at Princeton High. With Louise Stephenson, they formed The Devonnes and travelled widely in Europe, Asia and Australia performing in night-clubs and USOs.

Since the Devonnes dissolved, the twins have worked together and separately in TV commercials (see photo), daytime serials and night-clubs.

Their mother is Mrs. Barbara Hill, who has been active in Princeton community affairs for many years. She is a member of the Joint Committee on Consolidation. The Hills' uncle, John Washington of Princeton, is the "Crazy Eddie" commercial man on television.

"Magical Faces," an audience participation play for children in grades one through five, incorporates improvisation into each performance. Audience as well as actors improvise, and the children in the audience become "co-conspirators" with two actors to build a monument to laughter in a town where laughter is forbidden.

The new production will be available to schools, recreation programs, hospitals, libraries and other community institutions from early May to early July.

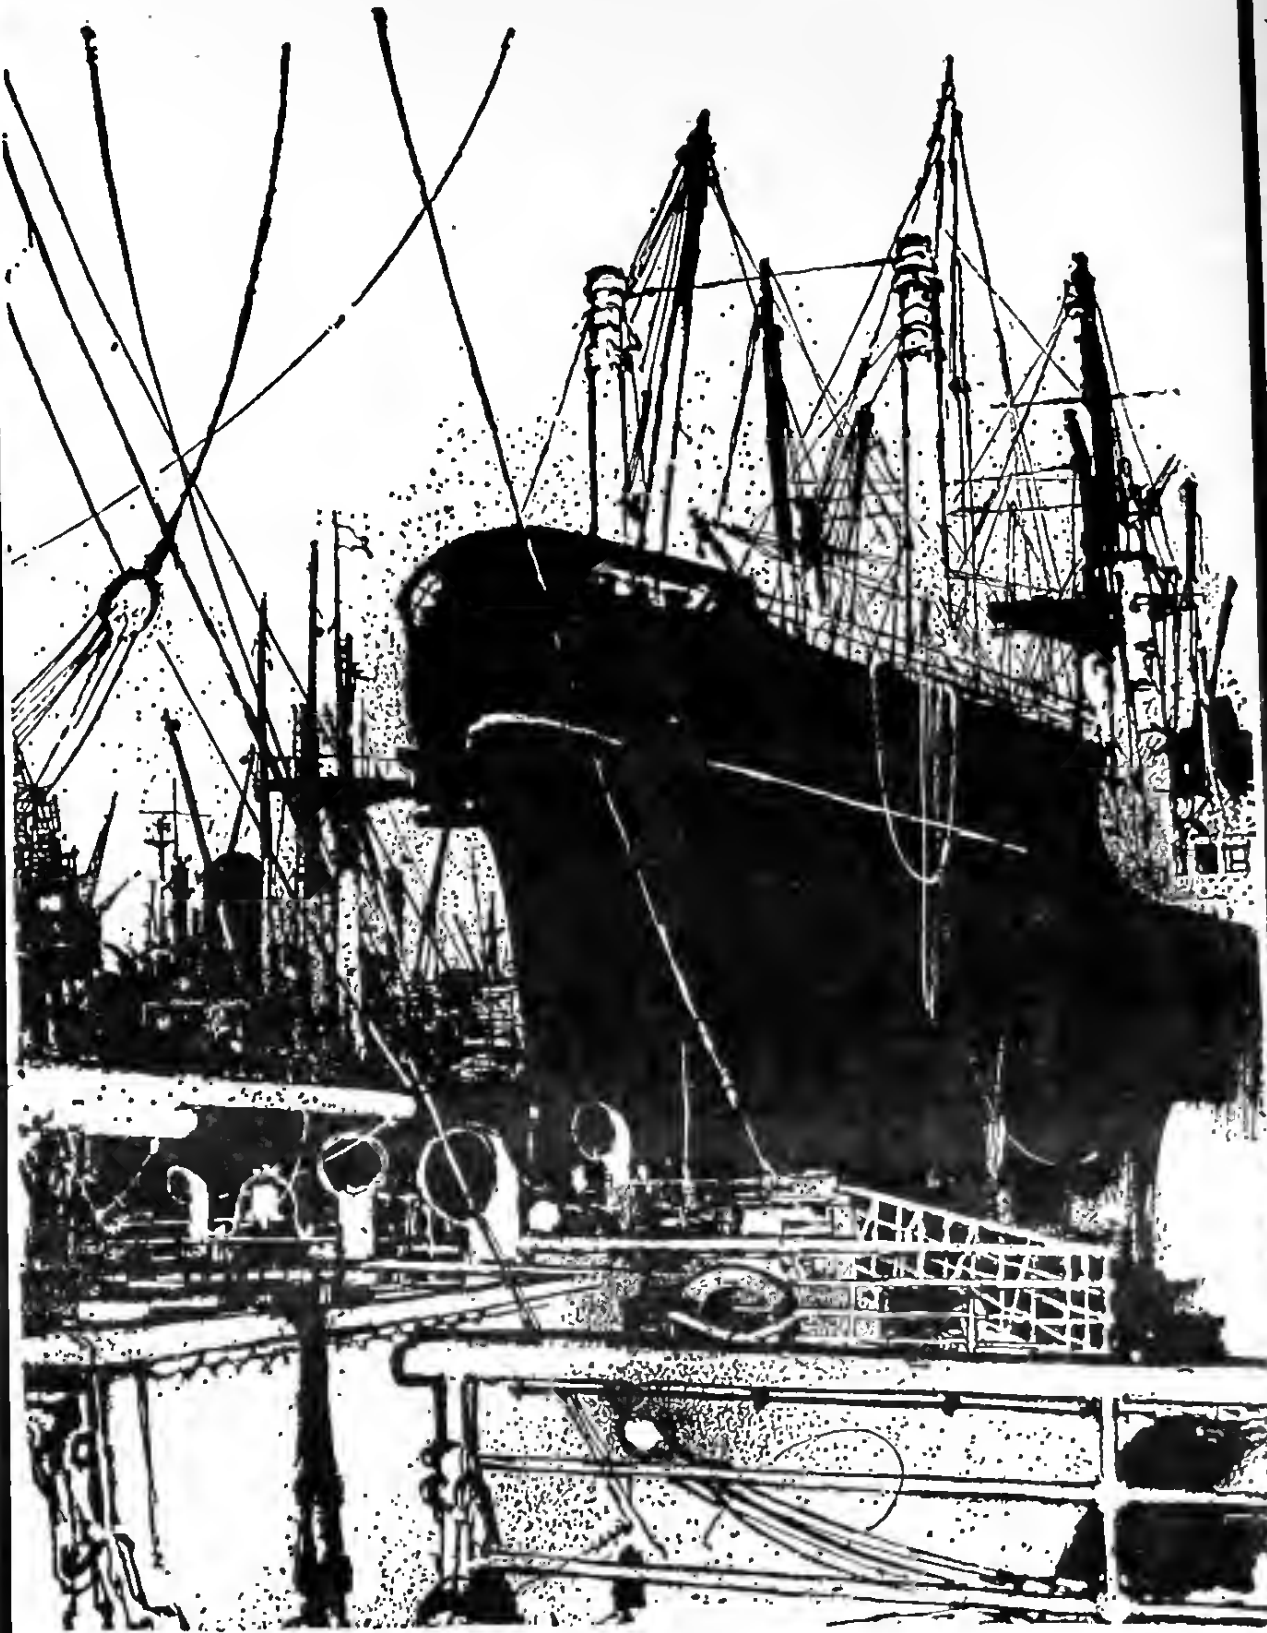

PROGRAM PLANNED

By Chinese Students. An evening of Kung-Fu demonstrations, Chinese classical music, folk songs and dances will be held Monday at 8 in Alexander Hall. The event is open to the entire Princeton community and admission is free.

The performance is sponsored by the International Center and will be presented by a group of talented young college students who are members of the Goodwill Mission of the Republic of China.

JAZZ CONCERT PLANNED
With Carter and Student Bands. The Princeton University Jazz Ensemble will present Benny Carter, alto saxophone player, arranger and composer in concert with the Ensemble at Alexander Hall on the University campus.

The free concert will be held Friday, April 8, at 8:30 and will feature Mr. Carter as guest soloist and conductor with each of the bands which comprise the Ensemble. They will play works composed and arranged by Mr. Carter, in addition to selections by big-bands such as Woody Herman and Thad Jones-Mel Lewis.

Mr. Carter's involvement with Princeton began in 1970 when he was invited as a guest lecturer under the auspices of the Program in Afro-American Studies and the Humanities Council. He received a Doctor in Humane Letters degree in 1974. Mr. Carter's present stay consists of a month of working with the two jazz bands, giving lessons in arranging and composing, giving a series of lectures, on his music and jazz in general, and guest-lecturing in several Music Department courses.

The Princeton University Jazz Ensemble, started three years ago by student initiative, still receives no support from the University. The Ensemble has grown to include about 40 players, hires its own conductors and gives four public concerts each year. The Carter concert continues the tradition of inviting established musicians for concerts. The Ensemble is the sole non-profit organization for big-band jazz at Princeton.

HAYDN'S "CREATION" SET
As Milbank Concert. The Princeton University Chapel Choir will perform Haydn's "Creation," on Friday evening, April 1, at 8 in the University Chapel. This year's Albert Goodsell Milbank and Elizabeth Milbank Anderson Memorial Concert will combine the Chapel Choir with soloists and symphony orchestra in the approximately two-hour long Haydn masterpiece.

The soloists are all members of the Chapel Choir. The roles of Gabriel and Raphael will be sung by Catherine Caldicott '78 and Allan Wieman '78, both pupils of Shirlee Emmons, head of the Department of Music's group of voice teachers. In the concluding section, the roles of Eve and Adam will be sung by Judith Feder '78 and Edward Cheng '77. Miss Feder studies with Adele Addison and Mr. Cheng with Madeline Chambers, also a member of the Music Department voice teacher group.

The role of Uriel will be shared by Frederick Hamlin '77 and Gordon Gray. The orchestra will be made up of a combination of townspeople and University students, and with Nadia Koutzen, Princeton resident and internationally-known violinist, as concertmistress.

Admission is free, and all are welcome.

BACH NEXT WEDNESDAY

At Princeton High. Three concerti by Johann Sebastian Bach will be performed next Wednesday, March 30, by members of the Princeton High School Chamber Orchestra under the direction of Portia Sonnenfeld.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and will be held in the auditorium of Princeton High School. The admission fee of $1 will be applied toward purchase of chamber music scores for student use.

The orchestra will play the Brandenburg Concerto No. 4, with Claire Fontijn, flute; Amy Ford, recorder and Heather Helms, violin, as soloists.

Daniel Klotz will play the first movement of the Piano Concerto in D Minor and the program will conclude with the Concerto in D Minor, BWV 1060 for violin and flute, with Amy Jo Parrella and Sylvia Lavin as soloists.

SHOW PLANNED

by Barbershop Quartet Society. The Princeton Chapter of The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in (SPEBSQSA) will present its annual show on Saturday, May 7, at the Montgomery High School Auditorium, at 8:15.

Chapter president Ed Mallowney and producer Tom Featheringham promise "a fantastic program" this year. The show, entitled "Bandstand," will feature the Garden Statesmen, Princeton's Chorus, performing a selection of Barbershop favorites, within the context of an original story.

A special feature of show will be the appearance of the Easternaires, one of the top-ranked quartets in the nation, and a favorite with New Jersey audiences. Tickets are $3.50 and may be obtained at the door or in advance by calling ticket chairman Dave Thompson at 924-1939.

RECITAL TUESDAY

Of Chamber Music. A free chamber music recital of music for flute ensemble, piano duet and piano solo will be held Tuesday evening at 8 in the Playhouse on the campus of Westminster Choir College.

Sharon McMichael, Jayn Rosenfelt and Claire Racamato, faculty in the Preparatory Department at the Choir College, will play a group of duos and trios for flute by Berlioz, Otto Luening and Muczynski.

Louise and William Cheadle, well-known in the community for their two-piano and one-piano, four-hand performances, will play the original four-hand version of Samuel Barber's "Souvenirs," Op. 28. Written in 1952, it is a suite in dance rhythms in six sections. Mr. William Cheadle will complete the program with Warren Martin's "Sonatina." Mrs. Robert J. van de Velde will head a committee sponsoring a reception for the artists at the conclusion of the program. The public is invited.

DOLL HOUSE SHOW SET
By Lioness International. Old and New doll houses from private collections will be exhibited by the Lioness International Club Saturday, April 2, from 10-4 in the United Methodist Church, Nassau and Vandeventer Street. The exhibit and sale will benefit scholarship and welfare projects.

Included are a miniature bakery, farm house, stable, squirrel house, country store, Swiss Chalet, log cabin, a copy of the Betsy Ross house and replicas of Princeton homes. Antique and unusual dolls will also be on view, along with 200-year old puppets. There will also be a large selection of miniatures and many hand-crafted and antique toys.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children who should be escorted. There will be a bake sale, and there is parking in the rear of the church. For further information, call Mrs. John Neiner, 452-9077.

CONTRIBUTIONS SOUGHT
By Berkshire Farm Center. Robert R. Comly of 59 Palmer Square West will head the 48th annual appeal in this area for the Berkshire Farm Center and Services for Youth (formerly the Berkshire Farm for Boys) in Canaan, N.Y. Assisting Mr. Comly, who is treasurer for the Princeton area, are Peter B. Blaicher, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Breuer, Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Erdman Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David H. McAlphin, Mr. and Mrs. C.R.P. Rodgers, Mrs. Fern Stafford and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wallace.

Founded in 1886 this residential treatment center counsels hundreds of young people and their families. The facilities have expanded to include a school, a recreation center, and an institute for training and research as well as community consultation centers, group homes and foster care programs. A leader in child care and treatment, the Center has a high success rate in handling troubled young people and its methods have set standards for others.

Checks should be made payable to Berkshire Farm Center and Services for Youth and may be sent to Mr. Comly at the above address. Contributions are tax deductible.

Final reservations are now being accepted by the Women's College Club for its tour of the Fairmount Park Houses and the Philadelphia Art Museum on Tuesday, March 31.

The tour includes a two and one half hour escorted mourning tour of the Park houses and an afternoon guided tour of English and American Furniture at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. The price of $7.50 includes the bus trip, tours and entrance fees. Lunch may be purchased at the museum cafeteria.

The bus will leave the Acme end of the Princeton Shopping Center at 8:15 a.m. and return to the center at 5 p.m. Reservations accompanied by a check payable to the Women's College Club of Princeton may be sent to Mrs. Frank Reiche, 55 Philip Drive. For information call 921-8389 evenings.

Dr. Martin Schached, chiropractor, will present a minicourse entitled, "Your Body Reveals," Wednesday at 8 at The Woman's Place, 14 1/2 Witherspoon Street. The purpose is to provide an introduction to understanding the bio-drama of living through knowledge of individual body structure and its meaning. Active participation will include basic bio-energetic exercise.

"Your Body Speaks Its Mind," by Stanley Keleman, Pocket Books, $1.75, is suggested reading.

The New Jersey Association of Nursing Home Social Service Workers will meet on Thursday at 9 a.m. in the Lawrenceville Nursing Home. The program will concern the newly established Institute of Gerontology at Rutgers University. All social workers and social service designees from long term care facilities are invited.

ART In Princeton

THE LINE AS ART
On Display at Museum. The simplest form of artistic expression is the line. It begins its life as a basic geometric entity, can be executed in one form or another by almost anyone and yet has more artistic and expressive potential than almost any other visual element.

Although the line, in current artistic usage has become a basis for obscure visual linguistics the classical line with its many graphic possibilities has been the expressive tool of artists as long as there has been art.

The potential of the line as an artistic vehicle is demonstrated in the display of 19th century French realist prints that is on exhibit at the Princeton University Art Museum. This small collection includes the work of major artists together with that of those lesser known, but often equally able. It is loosely arranged according to subject, presenting genre, landscape, architectural views and portraits.

Since the line is the basic mode employed in almost all of the prints, it is possible, with careful study, to see the many different ways in which it is used to create tone, volume and mood and how eloquently it can be employed as a means of expression.

The grouping of similar subject matter makes the contrast in linear methods more apparent. There is, within each category, a range of tonal and technical application of line. The soft richness of drypoint, calligraphic effects, the tonalities and the emotion producing effects that can be renditions of poster art. Early Fortune Magazine covers, which were developed from wood blocks are included. Notable among them is a political expression by Diego Rivera in which he makes a strong anti-communist statement.

At The Present Day Club. Watercolor is the classical oriental mode by Henry Wu Yue-Kee includes the traditional subject matter of this medium. Most of the paintings focus on nature, relating flowers, trees and animals in translucent and opaque color. The artist presents a masterful display of technical application and demonstrates unusual control in his color build ups and wash passages.

He uses a palette that is more intense than that used in most traditional brush painting and covers his surface completely. The paintings are finely rendered skillful portrayals of the subject matter combining many of the best elements of watercolor with formal brushwork.

At the Youth Center. A collection of woodcuts by Walter Culbreth includes portraits, landscape and figurative works. Culbreth, a part time artist who also functions as a scientist, traces his development as an artist by showing several different stylistic approaches. He is particularly strong in his portraits which are vigorous statements that relate the subject with the powerful, yet sensitive contrasts that are possible in the well executed woodcut.

At the E.R. Squibb Gallery. Landscape in geometry could be the subtitle of the current "Dialogue in Color" exhibition. Two painters use rectilinear forms as their basic mode incorporating landscape elements into an essentially abstract format. Sonia Cusit and Douglas Peden employ the grid as the supporting visual structure but develop their respective paintings in differing styles.

Cusit floats her grid on a large flat background of color, sparking it with occasional diagonals. She then incorporates landscape vignettes within the painting's rigid structure. This creates small patches of active color spotted within the formal framework of each design.

Peden executes his entire painting in small squares of color but sublimates the square to the over all rhythms and color effects excluding the essence of landscape. Soft rainbow tints and witty linear effects relate landscape elements after a fashion but allow color and mood to dominate. Pedens musical and mathematical background is apparent in his work which combines technical and visually sensual approaches with pleasing results.

At Assemblée. Art pottery from the early years of this century can be seen at Assemblée. Signed works from many of the better known potteries are accompanied by Lalique glass, antique quilts and an eclectic collection of European and American prints and objects. Three etchings, scenes in Italy and France, by Ernest Davis Roth are noteworthy.

Praise for Edith Francis.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is my conviction that members of the Borough Council should in no way be involved with the selection of personnel for the Princeton Regional Schools. As a consequence I have been completely disassociated from the current, arduous, and delicate task of the Board of Education in its selection of a Superintendent.

Since this important decision has been reached I wish to declare publicly that the Princeton community has every reason to be grateful to Edith Francis who has served so admirably as Acting Superintendent during a difficult period of transition. She demonstrated her commitment to education, moral, and social standards as she encouraged a spirit of partnership between the citizens of Princeton and our good school system.

I hope that Dr. Francis will continue to be a part of the Princeton Regional Schools for many years, but if she is enticed to accept an appointment elsewhere she deserves the community's acclaim for a hard job well done.

A Wish from an 11-year Old.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am 11 years old and love to skateboard, but there is no place to. On streets, it is too dangerous and on the Princeton University campus, they won't let you.

It would be great if we had a road or two set off for skateboarding. There are a lot of kids like myself that think there should be a special place for skateboarding.

KEITH GOLDFELD

Planning Erodes Housing.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

What's happened to planning in this town? The Planning Board members, when I was one of them, were mightily concerned with housing - with housing for all income groups; for childless young couples as well as for retired people, for single people as well as for families; with housing "in town" where it would create a sense of "livingness" in the town center, housing from which people could walk to work and walk to shops, as well as

'Drivers Have the Right To Be Rude to Pedestrians'

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

On Thursday, 17 March, I stepped into a crosswalk in front of the University Store, intending to cross the street. This action caused a woman driving a light brown compact to decide either to bring her car to a stop (which she had plenty of time to do) or to hit me. Fortunately she stopped.

After I crossed far enough not to block her travel, she drove on, yelling at me, "You've got a lot of nerve!". It seems she thought people in cars have a right-of-way over pedestrians and that people in cars have the prerogative to be rude to pedestrians.

As I understand the law (having asked a Borough policeman), a pedestrian in a crosswalk has the right-of-way. Cars are required to stop outside the crosswalk until the pedestrian has completed a safe crossing.

A lot of Princeton drivers disobey this safety law. This must be due partly to the fact that police don't enforce it (e.g., observe the frequent violations which occur right in front of the patrolmen on Nassau).

For anyone who thinks the law isn't feasible, there are two comments. First, in democratic processes, the generally-accepted method of expressing dissatisfaction with a law is straight-forward: have the legislature change it. Second, there are other states with similar laws where they are well enforced, rarely violated, and well liked.

ROGER McWILLIAMS
221 D Halsey

Editor's Note: For dozens of Princeton pedestrians who have had similar experiences, Mr. McWilliams has adeptly said it all.

housing scattered in more outlying neighborhoods.

Now it seems to me from reading the local press, there is diminishing concern, certainly diminished drive toward that old goal of keeping Princeton a residential community inhabited in large part by those who work here.

Now it seems to me that planners are too content to let the University continue its eroding away in the in-town housing stock in exchange for vague promises of housing in outlying areas. Even if those promises are kept - and they probably will be someday - it won't be the same thing. The apartment houses by the Lake are not the equivalent of houses on Washington Road (remember, before the advent of the Woodrow Wilson School?) or Charlton Street (remember, before the parking lot and transformer station behind Colonial Club) or Olden Street (remember, before the Mudd Library?).

And now what used to be called "Foreman's Row" on William Street has begun to be eaten away for a new lab. When will the University also want to do away with the houses on the North side of William? They, too, will not be "in keeping" with the administration's old dream of a landscaped mall of institutional buildings stretching all the way from the arch of old Pyne Hall to the giant metal "inch-worm" sculpture in front of the monstrous Engineering Quad.

I was also once on the Shade Tree Commission, and old-timers will attest to my love of trees, but it seems to me that if the Planning Board is now more concerned with saving an elm (no matter how stately) than with saving in-town housing for people of modest means, a strange and sad distortion of values has taken place.

Trees vs. People.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

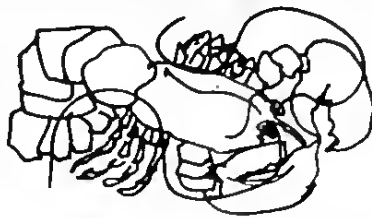

I share the distress of Mrs. Edward McCall and the members of the Dogwood Garden Club (Mailbox, March 16) whenever beautiful growing trees are cut down. I hope that they share mine, in knowing that there are many families and elderly people in our community who do not have decent housing, who live in basement apartments and furnished rooms, with or without cooking facilities, who share bathrooms, or who are forced to pay a major part of their incomes for rent and utilities.

At present there are 127 applications on our waiting list, of whom 69 are elderly or disabled persons. Of these 69 applicants, 13 have been waiting since 1972 or earlier, to be admitted to one of our apartments.

With a rate of between three to five vacancies a year, the present chances of many of these applicants for admission

NEW TERM TO START
For Life Drawing Class. The Studio-on-the-Canal, Canal Road, is offering a new session for life drawing, from a model, starting next Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. This is in addition to the Sunday morning life drawing workshop held from 10 to 12 every week. The cost of each session for artists who drop-in is $30 for ten weeks or $4 per session. There is no instruction for either day; students and artists working in any medium are welcome. For further information call Rex Goreleigh at 452-9053, mornings.

ART CLASSES LISTED

At Color Wheel. A new season of art classes will begin April 19 at the Color Wheel, 23b West Delaware Avenue, Pennington.

A full range of courses will provide instruction in watercolor, oils and acrylics, and drawing on a daytime or evening schedule. In addition, children's Saturday classes will be offered in two age-group sessions.

Daytime painting class will be held Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to noon and will be instructed by Linda Osborne. Tuesday mornings will feature both an indoor drawing class with Judy Masterson and an on-location watercolor landscape course with Dorothy Bissell. An evening watercolor course, also taught by Dorothy Bissell, will meet on Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10.

Printmaker Lynn Peterfreund will instruct both 5-to-8-year-olds and 9-to-15-year-olds in separate sessions which will meet at 9:30 and 10:45 Saturday mornings. Class size is strictly limited to assure personal attention. Further information may be obtained by calling the Color Wheel, 737-1229.

are uncertain. The waiting list at Princeton Community Village is even longer, with a comparable waiting period. The frequent calls, in desperation, that come to our office offer a convincing argument that in the choice between trees and people, people must come first.

Although a portion of the Mt. Lucas site appears shorn and bare at present, due in large part to the County and Municipal requirements that a retention pond be installed in that area, we are confident that the completed housing, together with the extensive planned tree replacement and the many original trees that will remain, will be a pleasing and sorely needed asset to our community.

After all, for almost each house ever built, particularly in a heavily vegetated area such as Princeton, trees have been cut down and new ones have been planted and grown tall.

Finally, rather than being a disaster, Princeton Community Village is an attractive community providing homes and good environment for 240 families.

Material on DNA Available.
To the Editor of Town Topics: Members of the Princeton Community Committee on Biohazardous Research have arranged, with the cooperation of the Public Library, to place in the Library a collection of material about research in recombinant DNA. We are hoping that those citizens who are interested and who want more information on this subject will take the opportunity to learn about it.

The collection includes the basic documents -- the guidelines of the National Institutes of Health, the British guidelines, the report of the Research Board of Princeton University, an environmental impact study -- and numerous reprints from scientific journals and popular magazines and papers, describing the techniques involved and representing the various opinions about it. It is not an easy subject for people who are not scientists, but it is an important one, and the committee believes strongly that any public decision should be based in a general awareness of the issues. To arrive at this, we have found, takes some work.

The committee would also like to repeat our invitation to the community to attend our meetings. They are held on Mondays from 8 to 10 p.m. and Saturdays from 1 to 3.

Action Against TV Violence

To the Editor of Town Topics: The terrifying presence of violence within the lives of mankind requires us to ask why? And then in the complexities of answers compose some possible reasons.

The conspicuous and frequent violence exposed to the minds of our brothers and sisters through the ubiquitous medium of television is an obvious source for much instruction. It seems almost ludicrous that we, as civilized Western man--at least perhaps in name--have tolerated this strangling repetition of destructive persuasion. One of the strongest and most powerful mediums in history is television. It is proclaiming violence!

We propose to boycott products of those who sponsor the most violent programs--beginning Sunday, May 1, 1977. We also propose a profusion of letters to the companies which support these programs through advertising.

If people in the nation might unite to do this, perhaps change can take place. Perhaps our collected concern and action can be effectual.

...we're just doing more.

At Princeton Savings we've got high savings rates . . . but that's not why people save here.

We've got retirement accounts, home improvement loans, direct deposit of social security checks and manageable mortgage terms. But that's not why so many people prefer Princeton.

A lot of savings institutions can offer you good savings rates and convenient locations, but we've got something a little more intangible . . . a lot more valuable. Our people. The entire staff at Princeton Savings is friendly, courteous and thoroughly trained to answer your questions and to give you expert service that gets you on your way quickly.

We are doing more for you at Princeton Savings and Loan . . . and we're not too busy to smile about it either!

Police spend, but they also reap.

That was a point made by Chief Michael Carnevale in his annual year-end report for 1976 which he released this week.

This is the way the Borough chief sees his department as generating $409,240 in income in 1976 or $21,286 more than the previous year. Criminal fines brought in $3,553, parking fines $117,958 and moving motor vehicle fines, $42,005. Meter revenue was $182,172.

People paid $1,398 to obtain copies of accident reports, $699 for photographs and prints, and $1,246 for meter bags. Sale of uniforms netted $203 and there was an item $5.72-unclaimed monies. Grand 1976 total: $409,240, nearly equal to the department's annual budget.

Oddly enough, the best shooter in basketball history was never a basketball star...Wilfred Hetzel of Milrose, Minn., was only a substitute on his high school team and never played college or pro ball, but he toured the nation for many years with basketball shooting exhibitions, scoring baskets with his eyes closed, while sitting down, and with his back to the basket...He was known as the best basketball shooter in the world...yet he was never a star on any team.

+++ In the history of the NCAA major-college basketball tournament, only 3 teams from the Northeast have ever won the championship—and no Northeast team has won it since way back in 1954...The only Northeast teams ever to win the NCAA tourney are Holy Cross in 1947, City College of New York in 1950 and LaSalle in 1954.

+++ Here's a surprising fact that shows how times have changed...Arnie Palmer would up 115th on golf's money-winning list last year...114 other golfers made more money in golf tournaments than Palmer did in 1976...Not too long ago, Palmer always finished near the top of the money-winning list year after year

+++ Question: How would I prove a fire loss in my home

Answer: A professional appraisal is the best way. Pictures of the outside and inside is the next best bet.

Sowinski Is 'Ivy League Player of the Year' And Wins Place on ECAC Division I Quintet

Frank Sowinski, whose absence through injury from several games a year ago resulted in omission of his name when Ivy League honors were announced, has been named "Player of the Year" for 1977. He succeeds Armond Hill, now a starting guard for the Atlanta Hawks, in that capacity. Further proof of the high regard in which he is held as a player came with his selection on the All-ECAC Division I Team. He was the only Ivy League representative on the 10-man squad.

The 6-5 junior led the Ivies in field goal percentage with a mark of .650, was third in scoring with a 19.5 average and excelled in the Tigers' specialty, defense. In 14 games, his personal opponents were held to an average of less than eight points.

With Penn's fine forward, Keven McDonald, Sowinski was a unanimous choice for the All-Ivy team. They were joined on the front line by Columbia sophomore Ricky Free—but the Ivies might have their problems in an actual game against another all-star combination: none of the three players up front is taller than 6-5.

TIGER BALL TEAM BUSY

Four More Games This Week. With little cooperation from the Weather Man, who produced balmy days during early March but has since been dealing a mixture of rain, snow and sub-normal temperatures, Princeton's baseball team is hoping to play a game a day through Saturday.

Action is billed as the first Central Jersey Classic. Providence, Southeastern Massachusetts and New Hampshire are visiting Princeton, Rider and Rutgers, with the three locals entertaining their New England guests on a rotating basis. All games on Clarke Field start at 2, with New Hampshire here Wednesday and again Saturday, Providence on tap Thursday and Southeastern Massachusetts Friday.

Six hits, three of them for extra bases, provided just enough runs in the opener Monday as the Tigers edged Providence, 4 to 3. They got six innings of shutout ball from Bob Tufts while they were compiling a three-run lead and then scored the deciding tally in the ninth on back-to-back doubles by freshman catcher Bob Sheppard and center fielder Joe DeGeorge.

Princeton began with a run in the first when Jerry Hughes walked and toured the final three bases when a pickoff throw sailed deep down the right field foul line. Bob Flaherty's walk, a sacrifice and Paul Pecka's single made it 2-0 in the fourth, with shortstop Dennis Spates scoring in the next inning on a triple and a fielder's choice.

Freshman John Baker relieved Tufts in the seventh, yielded a run and departed with one out and the bases loaded. Senior Mike O'Brien fanned the first batter he faced, walked the next to make the score 4-3, but then earned a big save with a final strikeout. The losers managed only three hits during the chilly afternoon.

Rider blanked Southeastern Massachusetts Monday, 5-0, while Rutgers was topping UNH, 8-5. Tuesday's games were rained out.

Coach Len Rivers is using the games with an eye to filling holes—more and bigger holes than Princeton has sustained through graduation in a number of years. Gone are his two best catchers, three fourths of his infield, his center fielder, who was a defensive star for three years, and his two top pitchers. Mark Softy and Mike French, both three-year letter-winners, were one-two in earned run averages last year in the Eastern League. Softy credited with a minuscule 1.15 while working five complete games for a 4-1 record. Overall, his average was 2.16, with a record of nearly one strikeout for every inning he worked—95 in 104 1/3. French's season-long ERA was even lower—1.89, and between them, they won 15 of the 22 victories the Tigers recorded in 1976.

In the face of such losses, it may well be a major problem for the Tigers to top the .500 mark, because the one asset—good pitching—that can lift a college team from mediocrity to being competitive appears to be lacking. Only Bob Tufts, a senior righthander with a 5-3 mark in 10 appearances, has more than 20 innings of varsity pitching to his credit.

Captain Bob Flaherty, who batted .350 last spring as the designated hitter, will provide much of the punch, while holdover infielders Scott

Antidote for Red Ink

Princeton University's Department of Athletics, beset by deficit financing in common with most of the rest of its counterparts throughout the nation, will benefit from participation of the Tiger basketball team in the NCAA Tournament.

A year ago, Princeton received $25,000 for its game against Rutgers at Providence. A spokesman for the Department of Athletics thinks the check this year may go as high as $30,000, but no final determination will be made until after Monday night's final in Atlanta, Ga.

Published reports in the New York Times on the NCAA split estimated as much as $40,000 for every team in the initial field of 32, with the four survivors in the semi-finals at Atlanta receiving $144,000 apiece. The Times said a renegotiated television contract with NBC would be responsible for the increased amounts.

Saunders and Cornell's Bernard Vaughan. The third-place Lions thus achieved what neither Princeton or Penn could do when they put two of their squad on the first team.

Princeton dominated the six-man second team, center Bob Roma, forward Bob Slaughter and guard Bill Omeltchenko all winning selection there. Two members of Dartmouth's last-place team, Sterling Edmonds and Larry Cubas, were named with them, as was Yale's Cornell Cooper.

Roma shared honors as Ivy League "Sophomore of the Year" with Columbia guard Alton Byrd.

In Ivy League hockey, virtually nothing came Princeton's way in the post-season balloting. Sophomore forward Craig Tresham was the only Tiger player receiving honorable mention.

Brown had three players on the first team, Harvard two and first-place Cornell one. These three colleges also dominated the second team, to which a lone Dartmouth player was named. Like Princeton, Yale and Penn were limited to one player receiving honorable mention.

Addis and Dennis Spates and Paul Pecka in the outfield should help. Eight freshmen are on the varsity roster, and any of them who can hit or pitch will see action.

SIMPKINS, LYNCH WIN In Town Paddle Tourney. Like father, like son, Bob Simpkins discovered much to his delight this past Sunday as he and Chad Lynch teamed up to win the rain-plagued Princeton Area Platform Tennis Championships over perennial finalists Don Reed and Gerry Mould.

Chad played in place of his father, Charlie, who had won the championship with Simpkins the previous year, but was on a business trip this time around.

Playing in light rain, after heavier showers had already forced a one-week postponement, the teams split a pair of tiebreakers in the first two sets, but when Mould and Reed won the third, 6-2, it appeared they were headed to their third championship. However, Simpkins and Lynch recovered and won the final two sets, 6-4, 6-4.

The men's consolation finals were also played with Hap Young and John Gellner narrowly defeating Buck Blessing and John Monteleone 4-6, 7-6, 6-4.

On the women's side, Marcia Bowen and Bobby Cooper were awarded the championship, when a previous injury to Connie Fleming forced her and her partner, Nina Moyer, to default the finals. The Youngs completed a sweep of the consolation trophies when Nancy Young and Olivia Bayard defeated Rosemary Flanagan and Olga Seiler.

In the Women's Invitational League, top honors also went to Bowen and Cooper, who beat Joan Oberman and Pam Starkey in the playoffs.

TIGERS LOSE OPENER

To Maryland In Lacrosse. Like the man says, "You have to run awfully hard to stay even." Last week, Princeton's lacrosse team ran hard against Maryland and just managed to stay even with its 1976 performance against the Terrapins—a 13-to-3 loss.

There was some consolation for new coach Mike Hanna, because his team played the second-ranked visitors virtually even for the first two periods. At the intermission, the Orange and Black was trailing by no more than 3-2, and had blanked the Terps throughout the second quarter.

Thereafter, Maryland took total control on the strength of a 6-1 third period and finished with four more in the final 15 minutes. Despite a good performance by Princeton goalie Kevin Gray, particularly in the opening half, defensive difficulties that had plagued the Tigers last spring again told much of the story.

Dave Tickner scored twice for the losers and Wick Sollers once as they both close in on the all-time Princeton record. Throughout the afternoon, the Tigers had trouble coming up with loose balls and eventually Maryland's domination in this respect was responsible for much of the difference.

Princeton's next opponent will be Fairleigh-Dickinson Saturday at 2 on Finney Field. The game was originally listed for Poe Field, but those planning to attend should go to the area just east of Palmer Stadium.

NEW TEAMS SOUGHT
For Softball League. The Princeton Business Softball League will hold its spring organizational meeting Tuesday at 5:15 at the Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Laboratory.

The 1976 champion of the 18-team league, McGraw-Hill, also won the ASA State and Regional Championships. Other teams in the league include Squibb, RCA, Ingersoll Rand and Cyanamid.

Princeton area companies can enter a team in the league if the team is comprised of employees only. Those interested should call the league president, Ted Terpstra, at 452-6557 or 924-8243.

CELTICS BEAT BRAVES
For Dillon League Title. The Celtics forged back from a 21-16 halftime deficit to defeat the previously unbeaten Braves 49-33 in the Dillon League Junior Division Playoffs last Saturday.

For the Braves, a fine season crumbled in the second half of the contest as the Celtics shot the eyes out of the basket and the Braves' ball control diminished as they had to try to catch the hot shooting winners.

In the first half, strong shooting by Kim Wells and good board work by Mark Bressire controlled the flow of the game for the Braves. As the second half began, however, the Celtics began to score consistently with players who were not known for their scoring ability. As Mark Bressire fouled out early in the second half, the Celtics got more confident. Celtics guards Ed Rice and Kyle Stephens not only penetrated very well, but scored 13 and 9 points respectively; more than they had scored in a game all season.

Balanced scoring continued to plague the Braves' defense as the Celtics continuously hit the open man for the basket. Scott Gabrielson connected for three buckets in the second half after shedding his defensive adversary. As the score became more lop-sided, the presence of injured Josh Miller became more apparent to the Braves.

Kim Wells tried to take on too much of the scoring chores causing turnovers and forced shots. Paul Keaney was the leading scorer for the Celtics with 15 points, (9 for 13 from the foul line). Kim Wells led the Braves scoring efforts with 16.

REGISTER SATURDAY
For Spring Soccer. Some 600 youngsters are expected to enroll in The Princeton Soccer Club's spring program which starts April 9 and runs eight consecutive Saturdays through Memorial Day. The program is open to boys and girls, 6-18, and participants will be divided into leagues and teams according to year of birth and level of ability. Registration will be held Saturday at Baker Rink on the Princeton University campus from 9-12 noon.

Applications can also be sent by mail to: The Princeton Soccer Club, P.O. Box 257, Princeton. Those desiring further information should call the Club at 921-1024 or 924-5613.

GOLD MEDAL WON
By PAA Boy's Relay Team. At the AAU Junior Olympic Relay Championships held Sunday at The Peddie School the Princeton Aquatic Association's 11-12 boys 200-yard freestyle relay team won gold medals for the first time.

Tim McElrath, John Healy, Eric Breisacher and Lars Enstrom posted individual best times on each leg to win by less than a second in 1:52.4. The girls 200-yard medley relay team of Laurie Long, Helena Wronski, Jean Farina and Birgit Enstrom earned silver medals in their event in 2:32.7. The same team captured bronze medals in the 200-yard freestyle relay in 2:09.5.

The boys 10-u team placed second and third. Arthur R. Seaman, John Bolster, Brent Matheson and Mike Kole finished third in the 200-yard medley relay and second in the 200-yard freestyle relay. The 15-18 girls — Kim Lambert, Ann Healy, Meredith Van Pelt and Ellen Epstein finished sixth in the 400-yard medley relay.

Tokyo Is No Go
The brief dreams that Princeton football players and coaches had of playing a 10th game next fall against Grambling College in Tokyo, Japan, were ended last week by the University's administration. The date of Saturday November 19, a week after the final Ivy game against Cornell, had been suggested.

Four days' absence from the classroom, the time required for the all-expenses paid trip, is too much, the Department of Athletics was informed. It was also told that the Tigers were fourth choice for the journey-- Dartmouth, Harvard and Yale have all reportedly been asked previously and all have replied in the negative.

weekend in the Mid-Atlantic Regional Hockey Championship held in Monsey, N.Y. Teams from 17 states competed.

Finalists in the round-robin tournament in their division were Toledo, Ohio, Erie, Pa., Monsey and Lawrence. The four were survivors of a series of area playdowns started in February.

Lawrence defeated Monsey, 2-1, and Erie, 5-4, but lost to Toledo, the eventual winner, 6-2. Finalists of other regional tournaments will advance to the national championships in Oregon. "It was a very exciting tournament," said Lawrence coach Ernie Anastasio.

The Lawrence Pee-Wees finished with an overall record this season of 34-5-6 — the most successful, commented Anastasio, in the team's 11-year existence. This is his fifth year as coach.

Most of the team's players, he said, come from the Princeton - Lawrence - Pennington area.

AUDI FOX BEATS CHEVY CORVETTE!

If you're a little wide-eyed, we can't blame you. We were a little surprised ourselves when our $5,600 4-door sedan, the 5-passenger Audi Fox, beat the $8,600 Chevy Corvette in a Slalom test conducted by the American Testing Institute. But it's true. The Fox won!

Under identical conditions, with the Institute's test driver handling both cars, the Audi Fox beat the Chevy Corvette. Over and over, and over again.

And our fast (0 to 50 in 8 seconds) Audi Fox is also frugal (30 mpg hwy, 24 mpg city — based on EPA estimates using standard transmission. Actual mileage may vary depending on how you drive, car's condition and optional equipment).

Little Tiger Nine Shooting for .500 Season

It doesn't matter how many or how few players are returning...whether they're experienced or inexperienced. Coaches fall in one of two camps before the start of a season: optimist or pessimist. Jim O'Neill, starting his third season as head baseball coach at Princeton High, doesn't really like to make pre-season predictions. But his propensity to find the good things, to stress the positive keeps tripping him up. He is an optimist. And this year he has good reason to be. Several good reasons.

"I'm happier and more optimistic than ever before," he said. This should be the first year of two good years. I think we're ready for .500 this season."

If .500 seems a modest goal to some, it isn't for O'Neill. Winning seasons aren't part of the PHS baseball scene. There hasn't been a .500 season since 1967 when the Little Tigers split 18 contests and there hasn't been a winning season since 1963 when they won 10 of 19.

After inheriting a team that had been floundering for years, O'Neill was 3-17 his first season. Last year, a nine-game losing streak wrecked the season but the Little Tigers came back to win two of their last three, including a victory over Steinert in the finale. The final tally, four wins, 13 losses.

"We used to have a defeatist attitude around here," agreed O'Neill, "but that's all ancient history now. We're not even going to talk about it."

Seven Players Returning. Indeed, the feeling is that if PHS doesn't do it this year it never will. For openers, O'Neill has seven players back who played on the varsity last year as sophomores. "That's the biggest plus as far as the program goes," he said. In past seasons a thin pitching staff has hurt PHS. This year, O'Neill has three starters back — all juniors: Al Kandell, Darl Nazzaro and Keith Phox. In addition, he has picked up a relief pitcher in Jim Baxter, a senior transfer student from Notre Dame. "He should help us out," said O'Neill.

Another plus: the appearance of Todd Blackledge. Catching had figured to be a sizeable hole for O'Neill to fill this spring. Not any more. Blackledge, the sophomore transfer from Kentucky who has already earned letters in football and basketball off standout seasons, has his 6-3, 215-lb. frame firmly anchored behind the plate.

"He has a helluva rifle for an arm," said O'Neill. "It's like a cannon down to second base. He'll fill a big hole for us; we didn't have anyone else." Barring injury, Blackledge is destined to win three letters in each of the three major sports and baseball is reported to be his best.

Still another piece that has fallen in on the PHS side this year is the 19-game schedule.

Although the Little Tigers "open tough," says O'Neill, against a strong Group 4 Hamilton team at home next Monday, April 4, and follow that two days later with a contest against Lawrenceville School, which PHS hasn't beaten in three years, this season marks the debut of the Colonial Valley Conference.

The bulk of the schedule will be home-and-home games against league foes—all Group 2 schools like Princeton. "It's a lot better schedule for us," O'Neill agreed, "and a good situation—we need a good year."

Among conference opponents, O'Neill said that he suspects Notre Dame and Hightstown will be top contenders, although St. Anthony is consistent, he said, and Hopewell Valley is a strong hitting club. West Windsor, Lawrence and PHS comprise the rest of the league members.

In addition, unlike last year, PHS has been able to schedule some pre-season games. The Blue and White will engage in a double-header Saturday against Princeton Day School (1:30) and Steinert (3:30) and against Pennington School on Monday and Peddie on Wednesday.

"It will give us a chance to look at our pitchers and give everyone a little experience," said O'Neill.

Strong Up the Middle. Strength up the middle is essential for winning baseball is one of the sport's oldest adages. That is where the Little Tigers are strongest. Veteran Scott Thompson, starting his third year at short and the leading hitter on the team for the past two seasons, will return and be joined by Johnny Miller at second. Kandell, another good hitter, will patrol centerfield when not on the mound.

Dave Miller, a converted infielder, is expected to start in right and John Boccanfuso, a senior, and junior John Rosenthal are battling for the other outfield position.

First base is a question mark—Kandell played it last year—but O'Neill is considering his counterpart on the mound—Phox—for the spot this year. The biggest hole is at third.

Bruno Perna, a senior, whom O'Neill described as a "player with a lot of heart" and who was used sparingly as a catcher last year, "is playing hard and may be our answer there." Another candidate is Jamie Robertson, a junior.

Against the credits of experience, good pitching, strength up the middle, a good schedule and enthusiasm, there are some debits.

Hitting is a question mark and while the defense expects to be much tighter the throws of some are suspect O'Neill reported.

Speed A Problem. "Speed is a problem," he added. I'd like to mix it up on the bases, go for that on-base average but I don't know how fast we'll be. Capitalizing with men on base is one of the things we have to work on."

O'Neill explained that in addition to a .500 season, he hopes his team is over .500 by May 7, the cutoff date to qualify for state tournament competition. "It would be a great thing for us; it's one of our goals."

"We should be in every game," he predicted. "Last year, we used to lose games we shouldn't have lost; I don't think that will happen this year."

Volleyball Tourney Here
The fourth annual Princeton International Volleyball Tournament will be held at Dillon Gym Saturday, starting at 9 and continuing throughout the day and evening. Admission is free.

Hosted by the Princeton Volleyball Club and the Princeton University varsity volleyball team, the event is sanctioned by the United States Volleyball Association. Twenty-four teams — 12 men's and 12 women's — will compete, including three from Canada.
